Hungnam Hold Slowly Shrinks

Protective Fire Covers Withdrawal And Red Forces Keep Closing In

TOKYO—(AP)—Beachhead defenders of the U. S. 10th corps held pressing red forces at bay tonight all along the allies' deliberately reduced Hungnam port area in northeast Korea.

The planned withdrawal proceeding under protective fire of artillery and the guns of warships standing in to shore. Doughboys now hold a relatively small slice of land only a few square miles in area around Hungnam harbor.

The big job of keeping the red troops from massing for an all-out attack on the Americans fell to the gunners lobbing tons on tons of shells at the Chinese and Korean reds trying to push the 10th corps elements into the sea.

While the gunners held off the enemy hordes, there was no way of telling how long they could keep back the pressing thousands creeping ever closer to the allied toehold on the beach.

Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond, 10th corps commander, said he was pleased with the battle waged by his men and their naval surface and "flying artillery" support.

Marine and navy pilots hit 24 enemy troop concentrations and claimed to have inflicted 1,300 casualties on the Chinese and the North Koreans. Eight thousand red Koreans have reinforced the estimated 100,000 Chinese swarming down on the beachhead.

With nearby Yonpo airfield abandoned, American wounded were rushed to the water's edge in jeeps and then sped by boat to a well-lighted naval hospital ship in the busy harbor.

Reds Cross 38th.

Across the Korean peninsula in the west, U. S. Eighth army troops fought minor engagements with North Korean forces moving over Parallel 38 in a 30-mile spread around Chunchon.

Chunchon is 45 miles northeast of Seoul and 10 miles south of 38.

An Eighth army spokesman said there had been a two-day lull in that sector and all enemy troops had been identified as North Koreans.

Fifteen miles east of Kaesong, west of Chunchon, another South Korean force stopped and turned back 200 North Koreans trying to cross the Imjin river. A two-hour fire fight raged there.

Gen. MacArthur's late Wednesday war summary said Eighth army units in the Hwachon sector held all its positions Tuesday in a series of skirmishes. Hwachon is about 20 miles north of Chunchon and is north of 38.

Thief Snatches Suitcase Full Of Baby Clothing

A suitcase filled with baby clothing was snatched from the hand of an out-of-town visitor Tuesday night as she was standing at the corner of Sixty-fourth and Havelock.

James C. Stevens, 6329 Morrill, told police that his daughter, Mrs. Madyne Rhoades, had just stepped from a bus with the grip when a "dark colored car with a loud exhaust" pulled up to the curb.

A man hopped from the car, grabbed the suitcase and quickly drove off with it, according to Mrs. Rhoades. She was unable to estimate the value of the grip's contents Tuesday night.

Mrs. Rhoades had just arrived in Lincoln to spend the Christmas holiday with her parents.

Defense Aid To Europe On Increase

. . . Over-All Help Down

WASHINGTON—(AP)—United States shipments to western Europe under the mutual defense assistance program (MDAP) amounted to $44,800,000 in October. This was nearly 15 per cent of all U. S. exports to that area.

Although commonly called the arms aid program, MDAP shipments may include commodities such as gasoline, for instance.

The October shipments represented a rise of $25,000,000 over September although over-all U. S. shipments to Marshall plan Europe declined from $242,100,000 in September to $236,700,000 in October.

The bureau withheld a breakdown on countries receiving MDAP aid from the U. S. It said this information would not be made public for security reasons.

Iran Troops Put On Alert

TEHRAN—(AP)—Premier Ali Razmara told the senate today he has ordered all garrisons in a "state of alert" because of the critical world situation and added that a world war appeared near.

Razmara was replying to critics who charged him with failure to take strong measures to hold down inflation which has skyrocketed because of war scares.

The premier said Iran wanted to remain neutral in any big conflict.

"But if anybody attacks us," he added, "we will defend ourselves."

Workers Insist On Adjustments When Living Costs Soar

Government Announces Price Lid System To Combat Inflation

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Union labor today demanded that any government wage controls plan allow for pay increases to match rises in the cost of living.

A united labor policy committee, headed by AFL President William Green and CIO President Philip Murray, took this request to President Truman even as the economic stabilization agency worked on a wage formula to go along with the voluntary price control system announced last night.

Members of the group said they also asked new legislation to permit greater controls over food prices and rents.

Three Main Points.

They gave reporters a statement which made these main points as to wages:

1. Any wage stabilization policy must permit adjustment of wage rates to make up for increases in the cost of living and "must recognize existing collective bargaining agreements which themselves assure stability."

That would protect the cost-of-living adjustment feature in contracts covering 85 industries, including the huge automobile industry.

2. The policy also should provide for correction of substandard wages and adjustments of inequities in existing wage rates within or between industries. "Wage stabilization must not become wage freezing," the committee said.

3. Overtime payments for premium work now protected by collective bargaining agreements or existing law, that is, work over 40 hours a week in the case of law, "must continue to be held inviolate."

Review Plan Opposed.

The committee said, "these provisions do not x x x preclude the working of a work week longer than that now considered to be normal. They merely provide the incentive for productive overtime and holiday work."

The committee also asked that decisions of the government's wage stabilization board be final rather than subject to review by Economic Stabilization Director Alan Valentine, as provided in the law at present.

The board is made up of three representatives each from labor, industry and the public.

Contending the board ought to have the final say on wages, rather than Valentine, the labor leaders argued in their statement:

Against "Compulsory Labor."

"Review by a single top administrator, chosen for his general administrative experience rather than specific competence in the wage field adds nothing to the process of wage stabilization excepting uncertainty, procrastination and arbitrariness."

The group asked further that "labor be granted active participation and real leadership in every important agency in our mobilization effort."

It opposed "use of compulsory civilian labor"—that is, any manpower controls which would force workers to take defense jobs.

On prices, the group said it was impossible to control living costs under the defense production act (the present controls legislation) because "great increases are specifically permitted" in food prices and because rents "are not now effectively controlled."

The agency meanwhile hoped for a wave of voluntary price rollbacks—mostly at the mill, mine and factory level—in accordance with its price-profits formula announced last night.

STOP-GAP MEASURE.

But if compliance does not come voluntarily, ESA Administrator Alan Valentine warned, compulsory price ceilings will be clamped on and the standards may be "more rigorous" than those now set forth.

There was ample indication that ESA considers the voluntary formula a stop-gap. If it restrains inflation until March, the infant agency may be ready to enforce mandatory controls wherever needed.

Rowland Jones, jr., president of the American Retail federation, criticized the voluntary "freeze" announcement as "vague in some aspects" and said it raised "serious questions of theory and policy which must await further investigation and clarification."

'Raise Obstacles.'

Jones said in a statement that some of the suggested principles, if they become part of a mandatory price control system, "could raise obstacles to the end-objective of increased production and efficient distribution."

The federation is made up of

Tentative Okay Given Power Plan

Principles Appear Sound Says Terrell

COLUMBUS, Neb.—(AP)—The reclamation bureau's new plan for selling hydro-electric power to Nebraska got a tentative okay from the Nebraska Public Power system Wednesday.

C. F. Terrell, executive director of the NPPS, said he had not received the interior secretary's letter outlining the plan on the basis of newspaper reports "it appears to me that the principles outlined by the secretary are sound and will in a large measure be acceptable to the Nebraska Public Power system."

The bureau of reclamation Tuesday outlined a plan for selling power expected to start flowing from Missouri basin projects in the next few years. The new plan was drawn, Interior Secretary Chapman said, because power agencies in Nebraska could not reach an agreement on the handling of power.

Separate Sales Urged.

In brief it provided that the reclamation bureau would sell power separately to the Omaha Public Power district, the Consumers Public Power district, the Nebraska Public Power system, customers and non-customers of these agencies, provided certain conditions are met. The principal conditions are that such agreements shall not damage the financial positions of the agents involved with respect to investments they have made in order to provide power for their customers.

Terrell says the reclamation bureau plan does not necessarily mean that the bureau will set up separate distribution systems within the state.

He indicated the agreement which Interior Secretary Chapman said Nebraska could not reach may now be in the offing.

"A number of conferences have been had in an endeavor to work out plans for utilizing bureau power, and it should not be long before a suitable plan will be agreed upon," Terrell said. "Of course many details are to be worked out in connection with this project.

"For instance, several years will elapse before bureau power will be available in 1954 or 1955. In the meantime it would be necessary for the Nebraska Public Power system to invest about $10,000,000 in additional steam generating facilities in order to continue adequate service to the people of Nebraska in the interim.

"Doubtless these steam facilities will be helpful to the bureau in firming up (providing an uninterrupted flow) their power supply from Fort Randall."

Mrs. Frank H. Woods Dies; Was Civic Leader

Mrs. Frank H. Woods, 80, 2501 Sheridan, wife of the chairman of the board of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company, died late Tuesday. Her death followed a long illness.

Mrs. Woods was born Nelle Shreves Cochrane in Bushnell, Ill., on Dec. 1, 1870. She was the elder daughter of Thomas and Hannah Hartman Cochrane. She moved with her family to Lincoln in 1884, and lived first on Q street. In 1885 the family residence was built and still stands on the southwest corner of Twelfth and D streets.

Mrs. Woods' father was engaged in the grain business, and for many years was associated with his son, Manning. For a period of time at the turn of the century he was a partner with William H. Ferguson of Lincoln. In 1905, with his son, William S., Mr. Cochrane organized the Cochrane Construction company of Lincoln.

Mrs. Woods first attended the Capitol school, and in 1887 she entered the "Latin school," which was preparatory to and part of the University of Nebraska. She graduated from the university in 1893 with the degree of bachelor of arts.

In Student Affairs.

A member of Delta Gamma sorority, Mrs. Woods was active in student affairs and is remembered for the leadership she gave to the committee which advocated the choice by the student body of "scarlet and cream" as the official colors of the university.

She was married to Frank H. Woods, second son of Col. and Mrs. Fred M. Woods, on Oct. 19, 1894. The ceremony "under the golden boughs of autumn" at St. Paul Methodist church, and the reception following, were colorfully recalled from early newspaper files when Mr. and Mrs. Woods celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1944.

The Woods family first lived at Eighteenth and C streets, later at 1220 South Twentieth until 1916, when the present home at 2501 Sheridan boulevard was built. In the planning of the house, one of the first erected in that part of Lincoln south of Lake street, Mrs. Woods took great interest, employing the services of Jens Jensen as landscape architect. Emphasis was placed on the planting of trees and shrubs native to Nebraska and in producing a natural rather than a formal setting for the residence.

Mrs. Woods devoted extensive time to civic and club activities. In 1911 she became a life member of the Lincoln Woman's club and took much interest in its activities. She was a member of the building committee which selected the present club site at Fourteenth and L streets. Mrs. Woods was also a long-time member of the Y.W.C.A.

In November 1915, Mrs. Woods was appointed by Mayor Charles Bryan to serve as a member of the board of the Lincoln City

Food Prices Hit New 1950 Peak

NEW YORK — (AP) —The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index resumed its climb this week after holding unchanged last week, and rose three cents to $6.80—highest level since Sept. 20, 1948.

At this new 1950 peak, the index is up 14 per cent over the level of $5.96 just before the Korean war began, and 18.7 per cent over the year-ago level of $5.73. The record high was $7.36 on July 13, 1948.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Higher this week were flour, wheat, corn, rye, oats, barley, lard, butter, cheese, sugar coffee, cottonseed oil, hogs and lambs.

Lower were beef, cocoa and eggs.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt Nominated For U.N. Post

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman today nominated Mrs. Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the former president, for a new three-year term as United States representative on the U. N. human rights commission of the economic and social council.

Defense Bill Sent Senate

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A defense money bill carrying more than $20,000,000,000 to speed up mobilization efforts was sent to the senate today by its approprfiations committee.

The senate group added more than $2,000,000,000 to the funds voted by the house after appeals by President Truman and defense leaders for additional steps to strengthen the armed forces.

The largest increase was $1,834,911,000 for the stockpiling of strategic and critical materials for the expanding preparedness program.

In a home front action, the senate expenditures committee today approved a bill to give the president emergency powers to revise defense contracts.

It held up action, however, on a companion proposal to arm Mr. Truman with broad powers to reorganize the government for the mobilization effort.

In the house, immediate consideration of this legislation was blocked by an objection from Rep. Halleck (R-Ind).

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the senate committee told a reporter the group will call in Charles E. Wilson, director of the new office of defense mobilization, to justify the reorganization proposal before deciding its fate.

He said testimony of Budget Director Frederick J. Lawton had not convinced the committee that this plan can't wait until the next congress convenes Jan. 3.

Family Troubles Bothered Moravec Witnesses Claim

YORK, Neb.—(AP)— Six witnesses Wednesday testified to Emil Moravec's preoccupation with what he called his family troubles.

They were part of the effort of Moravec's attorney to prove Moravec innocent of assault with intent to murder Gaynord Brown by reason of insanity. Moravec has admitted planting a dynamite booby-trap in Brown's pasture. The explosion of the dynamite shattered Brown's right leg.

Just before the noon recess of Moravec's District court trial, his daughter, Mrs. Robert Malmstrom of O'Neill, testified her father had an idea her mother was going around with other men and his accusations caused family quarrels during which her father became angry. She recalled that either in April, 1947, or April, 1948 the Brown and Moravec families met at the Moravec home and agreed to cease being friendly.

Earlier Moravec's brother Emil and Mrs. Moravec's brothers, Aloys Kozisek of Brainerd and Frank R. Kozisek of Bee, all said Moravec had talked to them of his alleged troubles.

Sales Volume Points To Biggest Christmas

Lincoln Buying Hits All-Time High Mark

By JIM LARSON.
(Star Staff Member)

Lincolnites are going to have the best and biggest Christmas they ever have had.

There probably will be more—and better—gifts under the tree when Johnny and Judy scamper wide-eyed down the stairs on Christmas morning.

Of course the biggest-and-best Christmas will include father and mother.

These conclusions are drawn from a survey made Wednesday of Christmas buying in Lincoln stores.

Spokesmen for the stores surveyed all agreed that Christmas buying this year is at an all-time high.

The increase in sales was attributed to several factors.

"People want to have a great Christmas this year due to the uncertainty of the times," said one department store spokesman.

Others agreed with him.

Still another said that prices are somewhat higher this year than last, which might be partly responsible for the new peak. Another factor pointed out was that more people are employed this year.

Habits the Same.

On a whole, the buying habits of people were about the same.

One spokesman did say, however, that people were "easier to sell and not quite so fussy this year."

Indications also point to a more practical Christmas this year with the stress more on home furnishings. One spokesman said that people this year are "combining Christmas with their home needs."

But while this is true, toys for the kiddies still played an important part in Christmas shopping.

"It will be a wonderful Christmas for the kids judging from the buying," a department store spokesman said.

Taste In Toys.

There wasn't much of a change noted in the taste of toys.

"Wheel goods are still terrific sellers," said one store representative. He added that the boy still likes a tricycle, the girl a doll and the daddy an electric train.

Television sets also took on more importance this year with sales higher than last year. The direct coaxial TV cable installed to this area was given as one reason. However, certain TV models were hard to get.

One spokesman said he noted a "sudden spurt" in the sale of farm implements due to the tight steel situation. Farmers, he said, are "trying to get set." He said items were sold to farmers this Christmas season which ordinarily are not.

The steel situation also made for a slight shortage in appliances, the spokesman said.

But generally the people got what they wanted — the demand, as a whole, was well-satisfied.

"It's been a very pleasant Christmas from the store's standpoint," one businessman concluded.

Outlook For Wheat Good

Winter Variety Yield Next Year Estimated At 899,096,000 Bushels

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The agriculture department today forecast the 1951 winter wheat crop at 899,096,000 bushels.

This first estimate for the crop is 148,430,000 bushels more than this year's winter wheat crop of 750,666,000 bushels. It compares with the 1939-48 10-year average of 758,821,000 bushels.

No forecast was made for spring wheat because it will not be planted until next spring. But assuming an average spring crop of 272,000,000 bushels, total wheat production next year would be 1,171,096,000 bushels. This year's total wheat crop was 1,026,755,000 bushels and the 10-year average 1,031,312,000.

By comparison, the government has set a 1951 production goal of 1,150,000,000 bushels to assure ample supplies.

The seeded acreage and indicated production of winter wheat by major-producing states included:

Nebraska, 4,368,000 acres seeded and production 96,096,000 bushels; Kansas, 14,497,000 and 202,958,000.

Grand Jury Charges Rep. Brehm Solicited Illegal Contributions

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep Walter E. Brehm (R-Ohio) was indicted today on seven charges of illegally taking political contributions from two former employes.

The indictment was returned by a federal grand jury which has been investigating allegations of "kickbacks" concerning Brehm. The indictment alleges the lawmaker received seven contributions totaling $1,380 from Clara Soliday and Emma S. Craven.

Brehm said in a statement that he is innocent, that he has never committed a criminal act.

The indictment alleges Brehm received the listed contributions for use in financing his successful campaign for re-election. Brehm was indicted under Section 208 of the United States criminal code. This section reads:

"It is unlawful for any senator or representative in, or delegate or resident commissioner to congress or any candidate for, or individual elected as, senator, representative, delegate, or resident commissioner, or any officer or employe of the United States, or any person receiving any salary or compensation for services for money derived from the treasury of the United States to directly or indirectly solicit, receive, or be in any manner concerned in soliciting or receiving, any assessment, subscription or contribution for any political purpose whatever, from any such officer, employe, or person."

Penalty In Law.

The law provides for a maximum penalty on each charge, upon conviction, of two years in prison, a $5,000 fine, or both. However, in actual court practice, the maximum is seldom imposed.

Brehm, 58, from Logan, Ohio, has been a member of the house since 1942.

Learning of the jury action, Brehm issued the following statement at his office:

"Now maybe we can get the facts on the record. This . . . is the only way I know to clear the good name of all concerned. I have never at any time or any place or under any circumstances committed a criminal act."

Mrs. Woods Dies

Library. She held this position through the year 1921, at which time she declined re-appointment.

Mrs. Woods was a charter member of the Lincoln branch of the American Association of University Women when it was formed in 1900. In 1922 she served as the Lincoln branch delegate to the national convention.

During the first World war, she organized a group of women who met in her home to prepare bandages, surgical dressings and quantities of Red Cross supplies.

Following her marriage, Mrs. Woods joined the First-Plymouth Congregational church, and for 50 years took a regular part in church affairs and women's activities. She was a member of the Copper Kettle, the Fortnightly Club and, with her husband, was a member of the Patriarchs.

Her particular hobby had been gardening, both at her Lincoln residence and at her summer home on Madeline Island in Lak Superior. She was a long-time member of the Lincoln Garden club.

In 1941 Mrs. Woods joined with her husband and sons in founding the Woods Charitable Fund which annually has supported the work of many Nebraska and national organizations. In December, 1947, the fund made a gift of the "Rogers Tract" to the city of Lincoln.

Mrs. Woods is survived by her husband, Frank H.; three sons, Thomas C., president of the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co., Henry C. of Chicago, and Frank H. Woods, jr., of Lake Forest, Ill.; a sister, Nelia Cochrane Quick of Lincoln; two nieces, Miss Ruth Cochrane (daughter of Mrs. Woods' brother) and Mrs. Helen Cochrane Teal (daughter of Mrs. Woods' brother, William Cochrane), both of San Francisco; a nephew, William T. Cochrane of San Jose, Calif.; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be held at the residence at 2 p. m. Thursday, Dr. Raymond A. McConnell officiating. The family requests that no flowers be sent. Burial will be in Wyuka cemetery.

Completion Capitol Murals As Originally Planned Urged

Completion of the state capitol murals substantially as originally planned, and creation of a permanent murals commission to supervise the work, was recommended Wednesday by the capitol commission which has been studying completion of the work. Samuel C. Waugh of Lincoln was chairman of the commission that made the study.

The commission's report, filed Wednesday with the legislature, also recommended that priority be given to 21 "principal murals" and estimated cost of the work on the 21 at approximately $131,900.

The principle murals and their probable cost were listed as:

Three in the north vestibule, $18,200.
Six in the foyer, $50,000.
Four in the rotunda, $39,000.
Eight in the memorial chamber, $24,700.

Commission members unanimously recommended that the mural decorations be completed "substantially as designed and intended by the capitol's distinguished architect, the late Bertram Grosvenor Goodhue, his associates and collaborators."

Co-operation Praised.

The commission praised the "extraordinary degree of cooperation and mutual understanding" which was developed between Mr. Goodhue and others in charge during the conception and construction of the building.

In regard to additional murals originally planned for what is now the law library, the commission recommended delay for study at least until the work has been finished on the first floor and memorial chamber.

An estimate of $125,752 was given for the law library work, should it be later decided to complete it as planned when the building was built.

Most important change recommended in the original plans for the murals concerned the memorial chamber. Commission members ask that the themes of war be changed to "those of that universal peace and good will which we Americans and our free democracy seek and hope to attain."

The commission suggested that the theme of "the gifts of the spirit of man" which was planned for the library might be used in the memorial chapel.

The cost estimates given by the commission were prepared on a basis of $30 per square foot for painting and four dollars per square foot for mounting, plus appropriate sums for sketches.

The commission submitted a draft of a bill to provide for a permanent murals commission which would have an indefinite term of office in order to follow through to completion of the work.

Recommended as members of the new commission were: the president of the state historical society, the chancellor of the University of Nebraska, the director of Joslyn Memorial Art museum, two members of different art associations of the state, one state resident who is a member of the American Institute of Architects, and three Nebraskans with a special interest in murals.

The murals commission which submitted Wednesday's report to the legislature was made up, in addition to Waugh, of:

James E. Lawrence, president of the Nebraska State Historical society.
Dr. R. G. Gustavson, chancellor of the University of Nebraska.
Eugene Kingman, director of Joslyn Memorial.
Mrs. Paul Gallagher, Omaha, member of the society of liberal arts.
Dwight Kirsch, member of the Nebraska Art association.
Col. Harry F. Cunningham, member of the American Institute of Architects.
Mrs. Edna Basten Donald, Grand Island.
Mrs. Henry R. Ley, Wayne.

Mrs. Martha Seaman Dies At Her Home

Mrs. Martha Allen Seaman, 73, died Wednesday morning at her home, 1838 South Tenth street.

Mrs. Seaman was born in Smicksburg, Pa., in 1877, and had lived in Lincoln for the last eight years.

She is survived by her husband, George W.; a daughter, Mrs. R. F. Patton of Omaha; a brother, J. C. Good of Mapleton, Ia., and a sister, Miss Myrtle Good of Pennsylvania.

Elastic Pay Freeze

55 state and national trade associations which list more than 500,000 retail stores among their members.

Two republican senators, meanwhile, charged that stabilization officials ignored the intent of congress in taking price control action without parallel action on wages at the same time.

Success Doubted.

The senators, Bricker of Ohio and Capehart of Indiana, said congress made it plain during debate on the defense production act earlier this year that price and wage action should be taken simultaneously if taken at all.

Bricker and Capehart likewise expressed doubt that a voluntary price freeze would do much good. They and a democrat, Chairman Maybank (SC) of the banking committee which helped write the act, called for broad, compulsory wage-price controls now.

The call for a voluntary price freeze came as the cost-of-living index appeared heading for a new all-time high.

Prices Up.

Latest figures by the U.S. bureau of labor statistics showed wholesale prices for the week ending Dec. 12 were 10.2 per cent higher than just before the outbreak of fighting in Korea.

So it appeared certain that prices will stay above the pre-Korea level even if there is a rollback to the level of Dec. 1.

The new "fair pricing standards" call for a rollback of any price increase made by a factory or mine since Dec. 1, if the increase brings the company's net profits above the average dollar profits, before taxes, in the years 1946 through 1949.

Mrs. Edith Gleason, Former Lincolnite, Dies In Texas At 78

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Edith Johnson Gleason, 78, a former Lincoln resident, in Kerrville, Tex.

Survivors include her son at Kerrville, a brother, Clarence Johnson, Radburn, New Jersey; a sister, Mrs. James Brown, Omaha; three grandchildren, Jean and Douglas Gleason of Kerrville and Mrs. Robert Hardman, Burlingame, Calif.

Funeral services were held in Texas, and burial was at San Antonio.

Dr. Pease was a member of the American Medical association, and the Methodist church in Chicago.

Surviving are his wife, Lydia; a son, B. Charles, jr., of Lincoln; three sisters, Mrs. Grace Gray of Oak Park, Ill., Mrs. Lelah Russell of Chicago, and Mrs. Portia Weeks of Racine, Wis., and a granddaughter, Patricia, of Lincoln.

The body will be taken to Gothenburg Thursday noon for funeral services at 2 p. m. Friday at the Olson Mortuary there. Rev. Carl Carlson will officiate, and burial will be at Gothenburg.

Supreme Court Blocks Omaha Apartment Job

Zone Order Ruling Prevents Building

A proposed 400-unit apartment development on Jackson street between Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth streets in Omaha appeared blocked today by a state Supreme court decision.

The high court upheld a district court ruling that a city ordinance changing the zoning of the block to permit construction of the apartments was invalid.

"The rezoning of the block in question was an unreasonable and arbitrary exercise of zoning power x x x therefore the ordinance so rezoning it is void," the opinion said.

No Similar Building.

The court pointed out that no other part of the city within many blocks was in a zone similar to that necessary for the apartment development.

The proposed change to permit erection of the apartment buildings "did not follow a comprehensive plan," the court said.

The court's findings:

"The design was to make possible more than 400 family units where only a maximum of 30 was possible. x x x

Crowding Of Land.

"One witness testified that because of the elevation of this area and the height of the pumping station serving it water pressure is only sufficient to permit water to flow from one faucet at a time on the third floor of his home. x x x

"That there would be crowding of the land, there can be little question. x x x"

Opponents of the development contended no due regard was given to the area, the character of the property in the area, and the preservation of the uses and values of the property in the area, when the council passed the rezoning ordinance.

The action to block the development was instituted by Thomas L. and Bess Davis. Defendants in the injunction action included the Kiewit company.

Proposed Omaha Bridge Known As 'Mormon Memorial'

OMAHA.—(AP)—The proposed bridge over the Missouri river at north Omaha has been officially named "Mormon Memorial bridge."

The bridge commission Tuesday night decided on the name. The Mormons had a campsite in north Omaha.

Dr. H. L. Karrer, bridge commission chairman, said an over-all bid of $2,108,526.70 submitted by the Industrial Contracting company, Minneapolis, Minn., was the "lowest bid which best serves the interest of the commission."

It was one of seven bids submitted.

Construction is expected to start in 30 to 60 days, Dr. Karrer said.

Engineers Told Registration Of Members Needed

A joint meeting of two Lincoln engineering groups heard C. F. Moulton of the Omaha Public Power District discuss the need for registration of members of the engineering profession.

Moulton told the Lincoln Engineers' club and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers that two groups are protected by registration.

First, the public is protected from incompetent and unethical practices, and second, the engineering profession maintains its high standing by the requirement of registration, he said.

"Selling the job is over as far as laws go," he said. "Now it's up to the engineers themselves to keep professional pride on a high plane and to police their own organization."

For policing, Moulton said, the professional practices committee has been set up. It is a joint committee of engineers and architects.

Dean Versaw of the Engineers' club presided at the dinner.

World Paganism Hit By Speaker Wesleyan Matin

"The world is as close to all-out paganism today as it has been since the beginning of history," Lloyd Bliss, Nebraska Wesleyan university senior from Douglas told a closing Christmas matins audience Wednesday morning.

Speaking on the subject, "Christmas Dawns Upon a Pagan World," Mr. Bliss declared:

"America professes to be a Christian nation, but Americans have many of the characteristics of pagans.

"However, there is hope for the world in the form of people who are willing to put themselevs above pagan characteristics and accept the true spirit of Christmas," Mr. Bliss concluded.

Margaret Stone of Lincoln served as devotions leader at the closing meeting.

The matins, held each morning at 7:15 a. m. in Huntington hall, under sporsorship of the joint Y.M.C.A.-Y.W.C.A. cabinets, are entirely student organized and conducted in a move to strengthen an attitude of worship on the campus.

Members of the house committee: Joanne McInnis, Ravenna; Janet Tiekotter, Plattsmouth, and Milton Grimes, Chambers.

Mr. Gladstone Meredith, R. No. 1, Box 261, Valley Station, Ky., who works with Korphage Florists in Louisville, says that while he's not an expert on flowers and plants, he does know that when they get the proper soil, sunshine and minerals they really do blossom out, and that folks are the same way—if one doesn't get the proper Vitamins and Minerals needed one feels miserable a lot of the time.

Here is Mr. Meredith's own statement on how HADACOL helped him:

"Before I started taking HADACOL I didn't have a bit of appetite—seems like food didn't appeal to me a bit. Couldn't sleep either—sometimes I'd lay awake for hours before I'd get some rest. I was just as jumpy as I could be. I was really in sorry shape. Then I heard how other folks with the same trouble I had were being helped by HADACOL. I can say that after the first few bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now I feel first rate—have a wonderful appetite—get plenty of sleep and am not the least bit nervous. I think HADACOL is wonderful—would never do without it myself."

There Are Thousands

of folks all over the country whose systems were deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin and who HADACOL has helped. HADACOL can help you, too, if you will just give HADACOL a chance—if you suffer from stomach distress, certain nervous disturbances, insomnia when due to upset stomach, vague aches and pains, or a general run-down condition when they are due to such deficiencies, let HADACOL help you as it has helped others all over the country.

Give remarkable HADACOL a chance. Remember, you have nothing to lose. HADACOL will make you feel better after the first few bottles you take, or your money will be refunded. Only $1.25 for Trial Size; Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette Louisiana.

One Beautiful Tie

War never has been and never will be a laughing matter, but the soldiers over in Korea are proving that they can still get a smile out of a tough situation. Press correspondents report that infantrymen with the Third division are puzzled about what to do about a Korean volunteer in their ranks. The bewilderment is understandable; the Korean's name is No Can Doo. Another soldier in the same division had another problem on his hands when he picked up a captain during the night who could not remember that the password was "Scotch and soda." When challenged by the GI sentry, the captain mumbled, "Bourbon and water." And then there is a Kentucky corporal, James Coley, who does not know what to do about a Christmas present he has just received—a gleaming red, yellow, blue, maroon, grey and pink necktie which commanded awed silence by his buddies when he fished it out of its wrappings. "It sure is a beauty," he said in restrained understatement, "but the commanding officer might think I was a little out of uniform."

From Prison Cell

"Build a better mouse trap," the old saw goes, "and the world will beat a path to your door." A white-haired Salt Lake City inventor has put a new twist on the saying by inventing not a better mouse trap, but a better type of metal shears, and he is now beating a path to the world's door. Robert McCoy, a 58-year-old convict who has served 26 years in Utah state prison, has been released and will get a pretty nice Christmas present—a vice presidency of a $100,000 corporation manufacturing the shears he invented in prison. Now, what's that other old proverb about "Idle hands . . ."?

Young Man's Game

There has been an illusion for a long time that flying is a young man's game. Then along comes Captain Basil Rowe, a snappy 54-year-old air line pilot, to prove how wrong the best of rules can be. Captain Rowe has just returned from six round-trips on the San Francisco-Tokyo airlift, which brings his total to 3,450 hours in the air in 36 years of flying. An ambitious guy with a pencil has figured it out that Captain Rowe has covered 3,750,000 miles high in the skies—enough to carry him around the world 150 times—and, it is doubtful that his record ever will be approached. This figure, incidentally, does not include the hours he has logged in light planes during the busman's holidays he takes on his days off. Apparently Captain Rowe likes flying. Obviously he is quite a flier.

Is It An Analogy?

On June 26, 1861, Horace Greeley wrote a headline for his New York Tribune, and ran it in the same spot for a week:

"The nation's war cry: Forward to Richmond! Forward to Richmond!"

Drive the rebels out of their capital, Greeley told his readers and we've won the war. So great was Greeley's following that General McClellan immediately mounted an offensive, Union troops pushed forward, and the result was the disaster of Bull Run.

★

For Mr. Truman, there may be an analogy today.

Only a few weeks ago, the clamor was: "Forward to the Yalu!" There was the glistening door to peace. Drive the reds back to the Yalu river and the war would be over. Now there is developing a clamor for a showdown with the Chinese—"Forward to the Yangtze!" So we take ten years, ten million men, perhaps win that battle. Then it will be: "Forward to Peking!" to plant a lusty kick in the seat of Mao's baggy trousers.

★

Richmond never was taken by union troops, but by-passed, while General Grant drove a spike in the heart of resistance at its core. Then the war ended. But battles can be won without winning wars. The knock out punches rest upon the decision of military men, not politicians or the coiners of slogans. Not the least of what happened last week is the fact that from now on, the decisions upon what to do will be military decisions, made, in part, on the local level by the general staff in Washington, and not solely by the commander in the field.

Scarce Manganese

Manganese, a gray-white metal with a reddish tinge, as important to manufacturing steel as yeast is to making leavened bread, is giving the government a headache of no small proportions. The tragic aspect of the matter is that our problem stems from the cankerous ailment of irresponsibility so prevalent among some of our representatives in Washington during these difficult days.

Drew Pearson pointed out on this page a few days ago how Senator Gillette of Iowa, by his unjustified slurs upon our Latin-American neighbors, has complicated the process of obtaining manganese from the lands to the south. An unco-operative attitude has replaced the wholehearted aid given us during World war II by the countries of Latin-America solely as the result of Gillette's irresponsible attacks upon Latin-American coffee growers. Now we are left to harvest the crop of hatred and distrust sown by the senator.

Added to the enormity of the present dilemma is the fact that Soviet Russia has one of the world's largest sources of manganese. Until late 1948 the Russians supplied the United States with 34 per cent of its manganese requirements. Now that supply has been cut off, and the situation has been made all the more critical by the "slowdown" tactics of Latin-America governments still smarting from the charges of Gillette and his committee.

Fortunately, we have uncovered an ace-in-the-hole in our struggle to get back on even footing with the Russians. The International News Service reports that a 15-million-ton deposit of manganese soon will be mined in the Artillery peaks region of Arizona. Thus the United States bureau of mines is being called upon to mine marginal deposits in order to rectify the shortage of the vital steel-making material. Rarely have the close ties between international relations and economic requirements been shown in a clearer light. Irresponsible utterances come home to plague not only their authors, but each one of us.

Another Lamb Chop

Add another postscript to the prospects for a bright new world: Lamb chops the year around. Research men who have been working on the sheep problem have found a way to get more than one crop of lambs a year from ewes which normally breed annually. Tests show that sheep which lambed in January can be injected with hormones and then breed again in July or August. Some day soon, the way it looks, housewives will be able to serve lamb even in late winter and spring.

GENERAL IKE'S MISSING SMILE

The reporters in St. Louis asked General Dwight D. Eisenhower to smile when announcement was made Tuesday in Brussels of the establishment of a historic international army of North Atlantic pact nations to preserve the peace of Europe, with Eisenhower in supreme command.

"I do not see anything to smile about," a grim-faced American hero said.

★

The frightful weight of responsibility again descends upon his shoulders, broad though they may be. It was stern duty that beckoned to him, a call which he could not refuse, although his heart was in his job as president of Columbia university.

★

A strange thread runs through the fabric of American participation in the world's struggle of the last thirty-five years. When the United States entered World war I, the late Woodrow Wilson reached out and tapped the late General John J. Pershing on the shoulder to notify him that he had been chosen as commander of the American Expeditionary Forces. General Pershing was a native Missourian, spent his boyhood at Lacede. As a young man, he was commandant of the cadet battalion of the University of Nebraska; one of its offshoots, the Pershing Rifles, still bears his name. In the closing years of life, he looked upon Lincoln as his home. When World war II arrived, a neighboring Kansan, General Dwight Eisenhower, was chosen supreme commander of the allied forces on the western front, and led his armies to victory over Germany. Again, less than a decade later, General Eisenhower is chosen for supreme command of the armies to preserve the peace of western Europe, and as his deputy, he has picked Lt. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, a native Nebraskan, born in Platte Center, son of a distinguished pioneer Nebraska family.

★

Call it coincidence, or draw upon any word to describe it, the fact remains that America's adventures, in a world sense, have resulted in the drafting of the services of three great leaders born in the heart of America, all of them within the radius of Babson's magic circle, the safest area on the soil of continental America.

★

They call this region the stronghold of that school of American thought described as "isolationism." The word has lost much, if not all, of its meaning. America's understanding of her role and her responsibilities in world affairs, has made isolationism a throw-back to a dead past. Yet many of her political leaders from this hinterland region voice a sentiment that reveals the heritage of that earlier attitude. The Christian Science Monitor, in its issue of a little over a week ago, for example, prepared the "batting average" of the 96 members of the United States senate on American foreign policy. It took the votes on 30 key issues—13 key foreign-policy measures since 1947 (prior to the Korean war); votes on 17 hostile amendments to these bills. In the last ten classified, the ten whose votes have been most consistently in opposition to key foreign-policy measures on which republicans and democrats voted shoulder to shoulder to support, Nebraska's two senators are found. Senator Wherry is ninth from the bottom, listed as voting favorably seven times on the key issues, unfavorably, 23 times, for a batting average of .233. Senator Hugh Butler is listed fourth from the bottom, with three favorable votes, 23 unfavorable, a batting average of .115.

★

So the midwest contributes opposition on the floor of the senate, and in the period from 1917 to 1950 has furnished the supreme commanders in the field.

★

The immediate public reaction that General Eisenhower will assume command of the new international army to preserve the peace of western Europe, was favorable, a development to be expected. He has the confidence and the trust of the American people, not only on the basis of magnificent soldierly qualities, but in the more delicate, difficult role of a skillful conciliator, and handler of men. He has never received full recognition for the miracle he achieved in unifying the diverse elements which made up the armies and the commands of western Europe in the second World war. It, perhaps even more than the strategy of the battlefields, is a comforting augury of what can be expected from General Eisenhower.

★

He enters upon it with the well wishes of his countrymen dinning in his ears. His job is to mobilize an army of a million to a million and a half men—not an army of aggression—but an army to preserve the peace and if need be, to fight for a spot in the world for free men.

HYSTERIA OR IRRESPONSIBLE ACTIONS COULD LEAD U. S. INTO WAR IN ASIA

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—A unique backstage difference of opinion has developed between two of the most important policy-makers in the cabinet—Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Marshall—over hostilities in the Orient.

The difference is that Acheson, accused by republicans of being an appeaser, is far more belligerent than Marshall, a military man.

Marshall's view—and it's shared by other military men—is that we must let no hysterical cries from congress or irresponsible military actions in Asia embroil us in war. What Marshall and his military staff fear is that some sudden move by us may convince the Russians we are about to attack, thereby causing them to move first.

Our best intelligence is that Russia does not want a major war, though she could be stampeded into one.

Therefore, Secretary Marshall, in meetings of the cabinet and the national security council, has pleaded for calmness. He has also warned Gen. MacArthur against any move which would bring on World war III, and he was opposed to MacArthur's troop movements near the Manchurian border after it had been agreed that we would keep a 40-mile neutrality zone this side of Manchuria.

• • •

Secretary Marshall points out—and it's no secret to the rest of the world—that we are in no position to fight World war III and cannot be for at least a year. He also believes that if we live through the next 12 months without war, there is a chance of averting it altogether. That is the reason President Truman's recent speech emphasized that peace, not war, is our goal.

Though Marshall and Acheson are warm friends and worked together in the state department, Acheson is perhaps the most militant non-appeaser in the administration—perhaps the natural reaction to unfair attacks against him as a commie sympathizer.

Acheson has proposed a naval blockade of the China coast, urged the bombing of Chinese cities, and favors keeping a military bridgehead in Korea. These measures were opposed by Prime Minister Attlee during his recent visit, and are opposed by top U. S. military men.

These military men warn against three dangers in the present rearmament period:

1. Politicians who clamor for all-out military aggressiveness. Governor Dewey's speech was regarded by the Pentagon as too aggressive, though it was secretly encouraged by the state department.

2. Military men who clamor for a preventive war. General MacArthur is placed in this category.

3. State department officials, including Acheson, who insist on aggressive action.

NOTE—Military chiefs point to another domestic danger in connection with rearmament—namely, drafting too many trainees before the army has enough camps and training officers. Secretary Marshall wants to move just as swiftly as possible but only as fast as the military machine can absorb men and weapons. He hopes for a steady 365-days-a-year preparedness, not a lot of quick hullabaloo followed by lethargy.

• • •

Inside fact is that President Truman was warned weeks ago of a railroad strike unless John Steelman, his genial White House aide, brought union and management together.

The warnings came from two senators and two troubled cabinet members — Attorney General Howard McGrath, Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin, Elbert Thomas, chairman of the senate labor committee, and Sen. Wayne Morse, onetime war labor board member.

NOTE 1—Union chiefs who have been living out of suitcases in Washington hotels for weeks are privately burned up at Steelman. One of them said bitterly: "Steelman has told Mr. Truman there was great progress and a settlement was in sight, when all we've had is an offer to raise pay five cents an hour, if we'll sign a three-year, no-strike contract. We haven't even seen a railroad president, nothing but lawyers and clerks. Steelman told the president a few days ago we had agreed not to strike. That was not true."

NOTE 2—There is a backstage move to ease Steelman out as mediator and bring in a really topflight labor conciliator like Cy Ching or Mrs. Anna Rosenberg.

F.B.I. HAS BEEN SUBJECTED TO MUCH UNFAIR CRITICISM

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — One of the agencies most heavily burdened by the present crisis is the Federal Bureau of Investigation. To the harassed men who run the FBI, it sometimes seems that they are called upon to investigate everybody and everything.

Marquis Childs

New loyalty laws, such as the law requiring that all science students receiving federal aid be investigated regardless of whether their work is secret or non-secret, constantly pile up the work. Most disturbing is the growing tendency to try to push on to the FBI responsibility for local law enforcement.

The department of justice is under pressure from some members of congress to make a drastic change in procedure. A memorandum to Attorney General J. Howard McGrath signed by several members of the house recommends that United States district atorneys be permitted to call on the FBI for assistance when local law enforcement officers are unable to cope with a local crime situation.

• • •

While the district attorney's request would have to be approved by the attorney general, this would be no real safeguard. Inevitably there would be political pressure behind the local U. S. attorney's request and it would be impossible to say "no."

The tendency would be to pass the buck to the FBI. It would be the perfect "out" for the mayor in whose city law enforcement had broken down. If the FBI failed in a cleanup, the mayor and his police force would feel they were absolved for their failure. And the graft and corruption, which are so often at the bottom of the failure to enforce local laws, could go merrily on.

J. Edgar Hoover is strongly opposed to such a change which would require a congressional amendment to the law that now governs the operations of the FBI. Attorney General McGrath is also opposed to the change. He points out that it would make the FBI a national police force reaching into every corner of American life. This is what critics of the FBI accuse the agency of seeking to become.

Curiously enough, those inclined to talk most loudly about statism and big government are ready and even eager to put new burdens on the FBI. They do not seem to realize that this is a confession of the breakdown of local authority and responsibility. It is an admission that a centralized government with a federal police force is essential to maintain ordinary order and decency.

At present the FBI functions only in connection with violations of federal law and on recommendation of the attorney general. Even with this limitation the scope of the job has increased amazingly in recent years. Hoover's critics have sometimes represented him as reaching out for these added powers.

Actually, in most instances, the contrary is true. As the work load is piled on the FBI, it becomes more difficult to focus on the vital task—to maintain the internal security of the United States.

Today this is a formidable responsibility. Internal sabotage in the event of war is one of the main objectives of communism. In 1940 when Russia and nazi Germany were united in a friendship pact, communists actively sabotaged plane production in American plants because the planes were intended for the defense of Britain and France. The FBI must today be unceasingly alert to avert the kind of Pearl Harbor which would consist of the sabotage of vital defense plants and transportation centers.

This must be done within the framework of the civil rights guaranteed in the bill of rights. In recent years it has seemed to me that Hoover and the FBI have tried to stay strictly within that framework. There has been criticism in some cases such as was noted by the United States court of appeals in the arrest of Judith Coplon and the Russian agent to whom she is charged with giving secret documents. And there is the unhappy business of wire-tapping which must seems to most Americans an invasion of privacy with overtones of the police state.

But repeatedly Hoover has made it clear that he does not want the kind of extracurricular powers congress has from time to time tried to saddle him with. Thus he firmly rejected the insistent demand that the FBI make a final evaluation of the loyalty of individuals investigated. As Hoover pointed out, that would be a wholly improper function for an investigative agency no matter what its qualifications or record.

This, it seems to me, is the best answer to critics such as Max Lowenthal whose recently published book, "The Federal Bureau of Investigation," is a compendium of the charges made against the FBI since its founding. The Communist Daily Worker hailed the Lowenthal book as proof of "an American gestapo."

No institution in America is above criticism and most of our institutions of government come in for a lot of unfair criticism. But so long as the FBI maintains the record it has, there need be no fear of criticism. The place it has built for itself may be almost too high as witness the efforts to bring it in as the magic cure-all for every local crime situation.

STORY OF A COMMUNIST

By WHITNEY BOLTON

Let's talk about a communist. A real one, utter, complete and practicing. No victim of a smear campaign, no helpless liberal bayonetted with careless words. This one is the real McCoy. The kind of communist who gets $20,000 for a job of work—and promptly turns it over to the communists. Man with maybe $10 in his pockets, while Moscow enjoys the use of $19,990. His name is Picasso.

Whitney Bolton

Picasso is learning two simple lessons in democracy these days and the passionate Americans who are teaching him the lessons are hopeful that some of what he learns will stick. Maybe it will, but I doubt it. Picasso is the painter who came out of Spain, passed through a Blue Period and a lot of other periods, and, of late, has been dabbling in ceramics, in painting with the lighted end of flashlights, in pasting beach-combed objects to wet paint and similar odd extensions of his talents. Call him a communist, call him a strange painter, but you can't call him a bad artist.

• • •

About two years ago he decided to interest himself in ceramics and, when he looked up from the clay, he had made 100 or so magnificent plates. As is his custom, he parcelled out the rights to them.

That was that except for some American admirers who loved the man and loathed his politics. Literally loathed. They began seeing copies of the Picasso ceramics in New York stores. Some in pottery, some in hard papier-mache, some in plaster. These were thefts, forgeries. These friends didn't explode at the ears or yell for the cops. First, they investigated, quietly.

They found that the authorized copy of the book cost $7.50. It contained 18 color reproductions of the originals. The forgers would buy a book, take out the reproductions, paste them down on a plate blank, glaze it slightly, bake it, and sell the result for $15 each. A fat profit in stolen goods. There were other methods, too, of getting Picasso designs onto cheap platters.

• • •

The Americans wrote their evidence to Picasso. He has now set about engaging New York counsel and, soon, a court order to "cease and desist" will result. A communist has been taught by lovers of democracy that in America even communists 3,000 miles away get justice.

There is a second lesson from a true American to Red Picasso. Picasso has children. Irving Hoffman, New York columnist and artist, met the children at Golfe Juan last May and promised them some American toys. When he returned to New York, he went to Louis Marx, the top toy man in the United States, and ordered and paid for 60 different items, giving the Golfe Juan address. The Marx firm boxed up the toys and sent them. The box reached Marseilles in late June. And Picasso promptly got a note from the French customs service: would he please go either to Paris or Cannes and pay out the equivalent of 250 American dollars for an import license so he could start business with his American merchandise.

Picasso argued himself hoarse and the children yelled their annoyance, but French officials are French officials. They yielded not an inch. They can get hoarse, too.

"Look you, M. Picasso," they would say with that infuriating French reasonableness. "The box is from Louis Marx, New York. A manufacturer, not a personal friend. This is, therefore, a commercial export to you. Now attend: who sends children 60 toys at once? Incredible! A toy, yes. Perhaps two toys. But sixty, m'sieur Please don't trifle with our credulity!"

The Picasso children soon will have their toys. Hoffman has sent an affidavit to Paris, a copy to Marseilles. It attests that he may be daffy but he does like loading children with gift toys. It asserts that he is a non-communist but doesn't like to see toyless children, whatever their father may be, and it ends by stating that if he chooses to send 60 toys to Picasso's children he damn well will do it and France can go fly its tricoleur!

ANOTHER ANSWER.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I feel sorry for the "Mrs." who wrote in for the answers to "Why?" Maybe she doesn't realize that our husbands and others of our families are over there fighting for our rights instead of having "them" in our backyards telling us what to do and when to do it.

Maybe she doesn't realize that it is hard for anyone to have fathers, brothers, sons and husbands leave their homes they have worked hard for, and the "left-behind happiness" of a home and family. That is just one of the sacrifices people have to make to keep their freedom.

I have a brother fighting in Korea who is a mere nineteen years old. Maybe, the "Mrs." can't realize how a mother must feel after rearing a son to that age, and then have him taken off to the battle front. If the "Mrs." would cross her bridge when she comes to them, she would be better off, since her husband is still in the United States. If she would only pray to God for consolation, maybe her "Whys" could be answered.

SYMPATHETIC

Editor's note: The editor commends this wife, as the second one, for a broad and intelligent view of a universal and unhappy situation; at the same time, retains his sympathy for the bewildered little bride who understandably wonders "why?"

THANK YOU.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: At this season of the year, it is a pleasure to extend greetings from the Veterans administration to you and your staff. We wish to express our sincere appreciation for your co-operation during the year 1950 in furnishing veterans and their dependents information concerning their entitlements. At this crucial period, we are receiving many requests from dependents of veterans and servicemen for information concerning their entitlements. Many state that their first knowledge of these benefits was obtained through the meduim of the press.

The Veterans Administration in Nebraska sincerely thanks you for your assistance, and wishes you and your staff continued success in the new year.

SHOULD TAKE HIM UP.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have addressed the "Cease Fire Committee, United Nations, New York," as follows:

"Truman is making the same mistake MacArthur did, but for a different reason. MacArthur said that if he hadn't tried to take North Korea, the boys would have had to sit with their hands folded until spring. How much better that would have been than the prospects we now have! Truman now says we must unify Korea, which means conquer all North Korea against the Chinese reds.

"Liberation of North Korea is no more necessary now than that of all the countries of east Europe, which we should not attempt to liberate until and unless we are ready to liberate them by World war III.

"Vishinsky made an offer the other day that would have permitted us to fulfill our obligations in South Korea without World war III. He said all foreigners should leave Korea, including the Chinese. That would leave almost twice as many South Koreans to hold down the 38th parallel which they failed to do this summer, supposedly because we kept them unarmed and untrained which we should not need to do again. Then if they don't care enough to take care of themselves, let them go.

"No matter how skeptical we are of Vishinsky's meaning, we should take him up on it. If he backs out, it will show him up, rather than us."

WILLARD HARTLEY.

EFFECTIVE WAR BLOCK.

Riverton, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: While America is recommending atom-bomb morality to stop the war, other voices at the Christmas season when peace talk can hardly be called subversive, advocate religious morality—prayer—to stop the war. Stassen had previously asked America to rekindle religion to stop war, and Truman had asked for disarmament, though from the other corner of his mouth he glorified the bomb. Factually, American capitalism, neither democratic nor religious, does not want to stop the war by such an unprofitable method as religion.

Capitalism has to wage frequent wars to enable it to make big profits and to keep it from sinking into depression. Just before the Korean war, we were entering a slump. The war quickly got us prospering again. The older capitalism did not scare up wars fast enough so it dropped into depressions, as in the Hoover peace period. Today's capitalism is smarter. It sees to it that a new war is started before a depression has had time to fall. War is capitalism's great economic tonic.

If the Christians of America would refuse to support capitalism's wars, they would be an effective block against war. Capitalism could hardly wage a war successfully if every American Christian would stand up for the Prince of Peace instead of for war.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

BOYS

Here, I think, our future lies:
In a small boy's twinkling eyes;
In his tousled mop of hair;
In his bold and jaunty air:
In his freckled cheeks and nose;
Even in the grin he shows.

Freedom's surest best estate
Lies in little boys of eight.
Get them, eight or nine or ten,
Guarantee it! They'll be men,
Men on whom you can depend
Freedom ever to defend.

Take them early from the street
Ere the foes of ours they meet,
Under friendly guidance, wise
Into manhood they will rise
Give them games they like to play
They will never go astray.

Ours the task to train them all
Lest the flag we love shall fall,
Our to have them ready when
State and country seek for men.
We the old must be their friends.
Liberty on them depends.

Nebraskans Had Their Chuckles In 1950 Despite Grim War Year

By ODELL HANSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

OMAHA—(AP)—History will please note that Nebraskans, in the grim year of 1950, could still find a chuckle or two in the day's news.

Remember these flashes from the foibles front?

A Wood Lake youngster inhaled a rivet, waited until he had been raced to an Omaha hospital 300 miles away before coughing up the offender.

Bogus Bogus.

Kenneth Bogus pleaded guilty at Grand Island to a bad check charge. And Robert Stockstill of Springfield, Mo., was arrested at Falls City—for speeding.

Poafpybitty Thompson ran into trouble with the law in Omaha, therewith throwing proofreaders and printers into a tizzy.

A university professor who keeps telling his students to make use of their spare time got trapped in an elevator, spent the 35 minutes preparing two sermons.

A man entered a Lincoln gun shop, asked to see a gun, then asked for shells for it and then held up the proprietor with the loaded weapon.

Girl Fooled.

A Chadron prairie fire burned two railroad trestles, trapping a passenger train in between.

A man who came to Nebraska at the age of 18 to "die of consumption" celebrated his 90th birthday.

A Mitchell girl learned to her chagrin those were patrolmen, not male admirers, giving chase to her on the highway and dutifully paid a $10 fine for speeding.

Eleven kids suspected of raiding a melon patch at Ravenna got a lecture from the farmer-owner — on how to tell a ripe melon from a green one.

Long Wait.

A Scottsbluff cab driver was so long waiting for a patron his company notified police he was missing.

A personal check from U. S. Treasurer Georgia Neese Clark (whose signature appears on every piece of U. S. currency these days) to an Omaha newspaper woman, bounced like a rubber ball. Mrs. Clark had forgotten to sign it.

A ring lost 27 years ago by a Fairbury woman showed up in a potato which the woman's daughter was peeling.

With 1 Shot.

A deer hunter at Henry felled two bucks with one shot. And the Madison hunter who bagged three pheasants with one shot was worth at least a mention until a Hastings nimrod bagged seven ducks with one blast, two more than a day's bag limit.

It didn't take a sense of humor to be a census taker, but it helped. One of the 1950 nose-counters got a little alarmed when the woman of the house started tossing furniture around and muttering: "Junk, nothing but junk." The woman, it developed, thought the visitor was from the assessor's office.

There were other honest mistakes.

'Look, No Hands.'

A plane carrying two experienced pilots crashed in western Nebraska. Each thought the other was at the controls.

A gate crasher at an Omaha party rifled purses and got away. Everybody thought she was someone else's friend.

Surprising oneself was a favorite pastime.

Said the woman who gave birth to a baby boy board a Burlington train coach: "I had no idea anything was about to happen and then, there it was."

Strong Men.

Two Omaha packing plant employes, at gunpoint, lifted an office safe onto a truck at the insistence of two bandits. Six men tried later and couldn't budge the safe.

And a defeated political candidate at York, surprised by comments on one of his radio talks, vowed to "get a transcript and find out for myself if I really had the punch that folks say I had."

A Hastings man walking along a Fremont street turned suddenly to shake hands with an acquaintance and fractured a leg. A youthful baseball player near Kearney threw a curve ball and fractured his arm.

Burglars in Omaha set out flares to steer traffic away from a grocery store they were burglarizing.

An overtime parker at Nebraska City let police know how he felt about the whole thing by enclosing, with his payment, a picture of Jesse James holding up a stage coach.

Which puts him in a class with the three-year-old Omaha boy who burst screaming into his home just about the time a neighbor telephoned his mother to report that the boy was "acting like he had ants in his pants."

Mama inspected, and that's exactly what he had.

3-Year-Old Check Catches Up With Man; Year In Pen

A 3-year-old bad check finally caught up with a 27-year-old Ogden, Utah man Monday.

Harry Brewer, charged with issuing a $62.50 check with intent to defraud, was sentenced to one year in the state pen by District Judge Ralph P. Wilson after pleading guilty.

The check was written Dec. 2, 1947, but Brewer was not returned here until last Oct. 17.

His file showed he was committed to the Colorado state penitentiary at Canon City just four weeks after the check was passed here three years ago. He was committed there for taking part in a "confidence game." He was paroled June 27 of this year.

Obligation For Roads In '50 Highest

Klietsch Estimates $18,500,000 Total

More than $18,500,000 will be obligated for highway construction by the state highway department in 1950, according to an estimate today by State Engineer Fred Klietsch. This will be the largest amount ever obligated for highway improvements by the department in one year, Klietsch said.

This record sum will provide for grading and building culverts on 396 miles of highway; for the bituminous surfacing of 192 miles; for placing gravel surfacing on 184 miles of newly constructed roads; for adding an armor coat thickness to 102 miles of bituminous-surfaced highway; for constructing 32 miles of rigid-type pavement principally concrete; and for widening and resurfacing with asphalt 32 miles of concrete pavement.

The work contracted will also include building 84 bridges, constructing three viaducts, 39 projects for building guard rails alongside highway embankments and 12 projects for bank protection in streams crossed by highway bridges.

The department estimates that its total income for highway use during the calendar year 1950 will be $24,392,000. Of this sum, it is estimated that more than 16½ million dollars will be provided by state gasoline taxes and motor vehicle license fees, about seven million dollars will be federal funds and $592,000 will be city and county funds.

In addition to obligating more than 18½ million dollars for construction, the department estimates that it will spend about 6½ millon dollars for maintenance during 1950.

The department will have obligated by the end of the year about three million dollars more than was planned at the beginning of the year. This additional construction was made possible by funds provided by the Bureau of Reclamation and the Army Corps of Engineers and by Federal emergency flood relief funds.

Because of the November repeal of the 1949 gas tax and license fee increases, the department estimates that its construction program for 1951 will be about half of that for 1950.

Pool Hall Operator Named In Complaint

A pool hall operator, Raymond Dinges, has been named in a city complaint as the keeper of a disorderly house.

Dinges, who lives at 1542 O, was served a warrant Tuesday ordering him to be in Municipal court Wednesday morning.

The charges he will face arose out of a police raid on an alleged gambling game in the basement of the Derby Billard Parlor about 1 a. m. Saturday.

Twelve men, members of a plant social club, have already pleaded not guilty to being inmates of a disorderly house.

Dinges is the operator of the pool hall, which is located at 1540 O. Chief of Police Joseph T. Carroll said Saturday that the basement, in which raiding officers said they discovered a crap game in progress is part of the Derby property.

Much of the confusion surrounding the raid was elimnated by the complaint filed Tuesday. City Prosecutor Jack Devoe Saturday filed a similar complaint, naming a John Dinges as the keeper of a disorderly house. He said Tuesday that this complaint would probably be withdrawn.

After signing the complaint against Ray Dinges Tuesday Chief Carroll said that he was certain that no other Dinges was implicated in the case.

Lewis Heads Conservation Society Here

Ralph O. Lewis, chief of the conservation survey division of the Soil Conservation Service, Monday night was elected president of the Lincoln chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America.

O. J. McDougal, extension conservationist, agricultural extension service, University of Nebraska, was elected vice president, and R. W. Eikleberry, conservation survey division of the SCS was named secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Frank L. Duley, project director of soil conservation research program at the University of Nebraska, was elected the new council member at the meeting at the Y.M.C.A.

Speech By Omahan.

The 25 attending members also heard a speech by Fred O'Hair of Omaha, executive director of the Nebraska Conservation Foundation, a state-wide, non-profit organization set up in 1949 by business and banking interests.

O'Hair explained that the function of his group was to help spread information on conservation worked out by the soil conservation districts and the University of Nebraska extension division.

Landlord-Tenant Poor

"The landlord-tenant relationship often interferes with sound conservation practices," O'Hair said.

The best way to increase soil-saving on tenant farms, he said, was to have livestock leases under which more of the land would be used as pasture.

"Many landlords are unwilling to make many physical improvements," O'Hair said, "but most of them will co-operate with such conservation practices as crop rotation."

State's December Draft Quota Met

Nebraska has met its December draft call and no more men will be inducted until after Jan. 1, Brig. Gen. Guy Henninger, state director of selective service, said Tuesday.

Zone Change At 48th, A Again Held

Bartholomew Asked Furnish All Facts

The Forty-eighth and A zoning change request from residence A to local business was aired by the city planning commission again Tuesday afternoon, but no solution appeared in the making.

It was estimated by commission memebrs that the problem had been kicked around now for some three years and that a definite factual opinion by the commission would go a long way in showing the public the real worth and value of its organization.

Working toward that end the group instructed Paul Watt, resident engineer for Harland Bartholomew and Associates, city planners, St. Louis, Mo., to send all the facts involved to his company for a professional, unbiased opinion to be rendered as soon as possible.

Kenneth B. Clark, 3052 R street, spoke against approval of the zoning change and asserted that Harland Bartholomew would back him up in opposing it.

Clark argued that the area could already be served by local business that could be developed in an area zoned for that purpose from Fiftieth to Fifty-second and A to B streets.

Attorneys Max Kier and Charles Flansburg also appeared at the meeting on behalf of Archie Farr and W. Bruce Shutleff, who have requested the change to local business.

New Constitution Adopted By Club

Adoption of a new constitution highlighted the regular luncheon-meeting of the High Twelve club Monday noon at the Cornhusker hotel.

A new set of by-laws was presented to the members by the constitution drafting committee, consisting of Hugh Dillon and Judge Edward F. Carter. New club officers will be named at a later meeting.

McCarthy: Pearson Is A Terrorist

. . . Feud Continues

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The feud between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and columnist Drew Pearson shows no signs of dying out.

McCarthy told the senate late yesterday that Pearson is a "political terrorist and character assassin."

And, said McCarthy, Adam Hat Stores, Inc., should stop sponsoring him on the radio.

Pearson reported in a statement: "Sen. McCarthy is rapidly making the initials 'M.C.', supposed to mean member of congress, take on a new meaning—'mental case'."

The long-standing unfriendliness between the senator and the columnist erupted into a rough-house in the cloak room of a private club here last week. And on Friday, McCarthy blasted Pearson on the senate floor, calling him a "Moscow-directed character assasin." Pearson replied he was fighting communism while McCarthy was helping it.

An Adam Hat official said that night that Pearson's view and policies do not represent his company's.

★ ★ SECRETS OF CHARM ★ ★

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

If you've been reading this column regularly, you know that only the slightest flight of the imagination is required to fit good, basic clothes right into the mode of any season.

That's especially true of Christmas, when all the trimmings you need are right at hand to spike and flare your costumes and make them as brilliant as all the decor around you.

Personal Decorations.

You'll be the talk of the tree-trimming party if you use this Powers Girl tip: Wear your dinner sheath and throw your white cardigan over it—but not before you have quick-sewn tremendous Christmas roses (real or fake) around the neckline. Haven't got a white sweater? Then use white roses on the bright red, green or blue one.

For the early chill of Christmas dawn when the children creep downstairs, fling your shawl over your robe with a casualness that belies the time you spent tying tiny, silver-tinsel bows all over it.

To wear caroling, calling and party going, you can have the merriest gloves—just for the price of an extra package of the shiny snow you can springle on the tree and a tube of thin clear, liquid cement or milliners paste, if you can get it. Seek out your oldest white cotton gloves and stuff them with plain white tissue. Smooth the smallest quantity possible of the cement on the backs of of the gloves (not the palms). Just before the cement is dry, dust the snow liberally over the cement and let it dry thoroughly.

These Powers Girls tips will touch your holiday attire with gay Yuletide magic!

Gay Touches.

Don't miss the sure bet of using traditional evergreen on every costume. Try dipping holly berries in wax and wiring them to cover old earrings. Bunch balsalm with candy-stripped carnations to stick in your belt. Twist arbor vitae and scarlet ribbons around narrow bracelets and let the streamers trail.

For your biggest evening use one of these Powers Girl favorites: Find the biggest metallic cornucopia in town and sew lace in teeming ruffles around the opening. Carry it instead of a handbag. Paste a large, gold beauty mark on the back of your bare shoulder. Wear a sprig of gilded holly on your dancing slippers—and let the partners fall where they may!

P. S. from J. R. P.

YOUR BEAUTY DIET

No matter what your weight problem—whether you wan to gain, lose or remain the some — YOUR BEAUTY DIET will provide you with a safe and sane pattern of laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving, and the tasteful, appetizing meals it contains require no extra planning or preparation! For the booklet, write to me in care of this newspaper and enclose 10 cents in coin to help cover cost, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Grandnephew Of Marshal Ney Dies

OMAHA—(AP)—Funeral services will be held Thursday for Marshall Michael Ney, 80, of Omaha, grand-nephew of the famous Marshal Ney of France, Napoleon's right-hand man at Waterloo. The Omaha man died Sunday.

CHRISTMAS TREE SHORTAGE.

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb.—(AP)—There's a shortage of Christmas trees in Scottsbluff this year. Harold Raymond of the Pacific Fruit Co., said that "in recent years there have always been some that had to be thrown away," but this year, producers allotted his company only about 75 per cent of the trees the firm bought. Shortage of tree-cutting labor is blamed.

Valentine Resident Meets Death In Auto Accident

Fatal Crash Brings State Toll To 293

Count Stood At 248 A Year Ago

NORFOLK, Neb.—(AP)—Max W. Hutchinson, 24, Valentine, was fatally injured Tuesday afternoon in a car accident just east of Nenzel on highway 20, according to information received at state patrol headquarters here.

Hutchinson was riding in a car driven by Richard Piper, 24, Valentine, who lost control of the machine and it overturned, the patrol was informed.

8TH CHERRY FATALITY.

Hutchinson is the eight person to be killed in a motor vehicle accident in Cherry county this year.

His death makes 293 traffic fatalities in Nebraska this year compared with 248 on this date last year.

ANDERSON RENAMED.

Bruce Anderson of Stromsburg has been reappointed a supervisor of the Polk County Soil Conservation district for another three-year term by the state soil conservation committee. He previously served two three-year terms.

New Trial For Turpit Denied

. . . Sentence Delayed

CLAY CENTER, Neb. —(AP)—District Judge Frank Munday overruled Tuesday the motion for a new trial, filed by attorneys for Danny Turpit, 14-year-old Hastings youth, convicted on a manslaughter charge.

The judge postponed sentence to a later date.

A clay county District court jury November 17 found young Turpit guilty of manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting last May 27 of 13-year-old William Hewitt at the Turpit home in Hastings.

Matthew Cody, 68, Retired Fremont Farmer, Is Dead

FREMONT, Neb.—Matthew Cody, 68, retired Fremont farmer, died unexpectedly of a heart attack Tuesday at the farm home of his son, Leo, near Colon.

Surviving in addition to his son is his wife, Elizabeth.

Wage Hikes Okayed

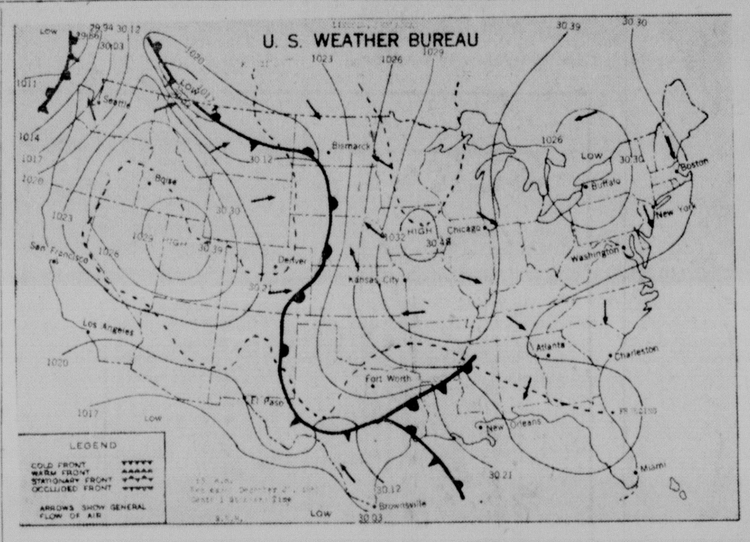
OMAHA.—(AP)—Salary increases for school employed approved by the board of education will raise salaries of teachers making $2,400 to $2,500 and those getting top pay of $3,900 to $4,000. Custodians and clerical employes will get a $10 monthly raise.



*COLD WEATHER: Cold weather prevails over most of the north-central and eastern portions of the country, while temperatures are above normal over most of the country from the Rocky Mountain Slope westward. ## High Court Denies Writ To Mother

. . Asked Child's Custody

The state supreme court Wednesday affirmed the decision of the Douglas county District court in denying a writ of habeas corpus to Rose Bruno against Rev. Floyd Fischeras, director of Catholic Charities of St. James Orphanage.

She sought custody of a daughter born out of wedlock for which the charity provided medical care and with her consent placed the child in the orphanage, according to testimony. Deformities of the child's feet were corrected by the orphanage.

Later she attempted a "withdrawal" of her consent and then made application for the writ alleging that as the mother she was entitled to care, custody and control of the child. The charity paid all medical costs.

The court also affirmed the Scotts Bluff county judgment in favor of the Olson Construction Co., Lincoln, which was sued by the Scottsbluff school district to force compliance with a $177,153 bid for building construction.

The construction company, the evidence showed, made an error of $23,600 in tabulating which was not discovered until later. The district sought to collect a penalty of 5 per cent, or $8,857.

BID OPENING DATE SET.

McCOOK, Neb. —(AP)— The reclamation bureau has announced that Jan. 18 has been set for opening of bids for constructing parts of the public use area and wild life habitat area at the Medicine creek reservoir. The project is about nine miles northwest of Cambridge, Neb.

Ohio Recovers Oil At Three Sidney Wells

Dorman Actions Remain Static

SIDNEY, Neb. — (AP) — The Ohio Oil Co., has recovered oil in the three wells currently being drilled by the company in Cheyenne county. Casing is being run at one for completion and testing was to continue at the other two.

Meanwhile, developments at the Dorman lease northwest of Sidney remain static and there were no reports from other areas in the county to indicate new discoveries.

This week's oil-gas news roundup contained the following information:

Ohio.

The first drill stem test at the Pahl No. 2 on the Huntsman High was from 4,632-4,647 feet, open forty-five minutes. Recovery included 845,000 cubic feet of gas and 455 feet of green oil. This well ran higher structurally than the Pahl No. 1, following the general trend which is becoming more uniform on the Huntsman High.

480 Feet Of Oil.

First drill stem test at Benson No. 3 on the Huntsman High was from 4,691-4,710 feet, open 45 minutes. Recovery of 660 feet of fluid was reported, including 480 feet of oil, 90 feet of oil and gas cut mud and 90 feet of water.

At the Stueve No. 3 in the east Gurley field, the initial test was from 4,405-4,425 feet. Recovery included 210 feet of oil, 180 feet of oil cut mud and 60 feet of muddy salt water. Casing was being run Monday and Ohio will attempt completion as a commercial oil producer.

Ohio's Brophy No. 1 in Yuma county, Colo., reached 5,066 feet Monday morning with no reported shows of oil or gas.

Dorman.

Completion of Dorman No. 8 on the Dorman farm lease northwest of Sidney is expected to depend on a delicate "squeeze job" to seal off water. In tests conducted during the past week, oil, gas and water have been recovered from the third Dakota bench. K. K. Knapp, resident supervisor, said a heavy gas volume has been encountered but no attempt has been made to measure it. The well was blowing Monday.

Scheduled For Re-working.

Dorman No. 3 is scheduled for re-working but is waiting on the arrival of tubing needed for the process. This has been a shut-in well for several weeks. It is known to have heavy gas volume but efforts will be made to obtain commercial oil production.

Feldman-Elsasser

An attempted drill stem test at this location one mile northwest of Sidney was not satisfactory Sunday because of mechanical troubles. Henry Feldman, leaseholder, said the test recovered mud and oil-cut mud. Later, he said, it was discovered that a hole in the drill pipe interfered with an effective test. He anticipated another test would be completed early Monday afternoon. The third Dakota bench is being tested.

Lee's Return To Indiana Blocked

OMAHA—(AP)—Federal Judge James Donohoe has blocked the return to Indiana of a prisoner who fled the penitentiary there.

The man is Franklin Eugene Lee, 24, of Terre Haute, Ind. Last month he received a suspended 18-month sentence in Judge Donohoe's court. He was charged with transporting a stolen car from Des Moines, Ia., to Omaha during his escape.

Judge Donohoe placed Lee on probation for five years. The judge explained that he did so because the burglary charge on which Lee had been imprisoned was his first record of arrest.

Last Saturday, Douglas county authorities rearrested Lee on an extradition warrant from the governor of Indiana to the governor of Nebraska.

Teacher Gives Pupils A Practice Problem

OMAHA—(AP) — Everett Hosman, who headed the Omaha police school, has posed a practical problem for his recent students.

Hosman wants to know who broke into his house Tuesday, ransacked and looted it.

Members of the police department, eager to put to use the training they received under Hosman, are working on the case.

Hosman is director of the school of adult education at the University of Omaha.

Airport Farm Is Social Asset As Well As Financial Success

Lincoln's municipal airport farm is not only an economic asset but a social one as well.

The 500 acres of land have yielded this year about 63 bushels of corn to the acre and gone a long way in giving a number of troubled men and boys a new lease on life.

The city of Lincoln owns the farm but leases it to the state reformatory. Reformatory inmates, under the supervision of L. H. DeBrown, do all the planting and harvesting.

Definite Asset.

"The farming program has been a definite asset," said Reformatory Superintendent George L. Morris, "in our building up a sense of responsibility in the men and boys who work the land."

Morris was quick to point out that the reformatory and its building program did not intend to reform anyone in itself.

"We can't reform anyone," he said, "the individual has to do it for himself. Our program is only a framework in which a person makes himself better."

The airport farm work, said Morris gets the individuals into productive work. It is one of the final steps, he said, in a plan of developing self discipline in the person and continually pushing them out where their responsibility increases.

'Not Criminals.'

About 95 per cent of those in the reformatory, said Morris, have a real desire to lead a normal, useful life in society. They are not criminals but have been involved in minor troubles and not been shown the way of personal responsibility, he added.

While the farm work may not help all of those participating in it in a direct way, it will give that needed sense of responsibility, said Morris. It is not expected, he said, that all of them will become farmers.

The success of the venture is brought out more by DeBrown, who stated that there has never been "a bit of trouble" with any of the boys.

Most of those who work on the farm, said DeBrown, are between the ages of 18 to 28 and show a definite liking for the work and appreciation for the opportunity.

Economically, the farm has paid high dividends. DeBrown showed the city council Monday a check for $16,590 as the city's share in the operation. That, too, represents only two-fifths of the total income on approximately 33,000 bushels of corn.

Professor Speaker—Prof. Virgil C. Welch of Nebraska Wesleyan university will speak on "Christmas Is the Divine Plan" Friday noon at the Kiwanis club luncheon.

Wishart Is Head Of New Council

Joseph Wishart, Lincoln attorney, was named chairman of the 12-man executive board of the newly-formed Lancaster Council of Alcoholism at a meeting Monday night in the Capital hotel.

Other board members:

B. E. Boyles, attorney, executive secretary.

Roy Sheaff, city councilman, treasurer.

Edward C. Fisher, municipal judge.

Dr. Roland H. Loder, city health director.

Dr. Louis L. Erickson.

Nick Sherman vocational director, state penitentiary.

Glenn H. Jones, Lincoln, manager, state employment service.

Rabbi Samuel H. Baron, South Street temple.

Rev. Gordon H. Schroeder, First Baptist church.

Chris Kuhner, county commissioner.

E. E. Stoddard, official hearings reporter, state railway commission.

Formation of the council Monday night followed seven months of work by a steering committee. The council will attempt to get alcoholism recognized and treated as a disease.

The council listed three points upon which their program will be based:

1. The alcoholic is a sick person.
2. The alcoholic needs help and is worthy of help.
3. Alcoholism is a community health problem and a community responsibility.

Agreement at the council meeting Monday night was to avoid any involvement in prohibition arguments or in the moral issue of alcohol. Present plans call for co-ordination of existing agencies and civic and religious organizations as those groups come into contact with the alcoholism problem. Among the groups with which the council will work will be Alcoholics Anonymous.

Plans also call for eventual affiliation with the National Committee on Alcoholism.

$1,044 Suit—The Smith Brothers Lumber and Coal company sued Steele G. Mills, 4134 Touzalin avenue, for $1,044, claiming that amount is due for sale of supplies on an open account. The District court suit was filed by Walter C. Smith and Harold J. Smith, doing business as Smith Brothers.

Direction Of City Growth Said To East

Only one major point, the direction of growth of the city, was raised before the city planning commission at its Tuesday meeting in connection with the third city plan report, "Population Growth and Distribution."

The findings of the sub-committee on that subject as reported by its chairman, Hal Mardis, differ with the idea presented by Harland Bartholomew and Associates, city planners, St. Louis, Mo.

The third Bartholomew report stated that the city's growth was principally to the south and southeast. The sub-committee, said Mardis, feels that the main growth is directly east and should be considered in the final draft of that subject by Bartholomew.

Salt Creek.

Mardis also remarked that the last city planning report did not take into consideration any Salt Creek development. That is an important issue, said Mardis, in determining the growth of that area.

Following the discussion the commission approved the rough draft of a plat of land from R street to about four blocks north between Fifty-eighth and Sixtieth.

The plans for the new plat were presented by John Slothower, general manager for Consolidated Construction company. The company, said Slothower, plans extensive construction in the area.

The commission also recommended the vacation of Sixtieth street between Cotner and R along with approval of the plat.

The vacation of Fifty-fifth street between Glade and Normal was also approved by the commission. The alley running from Fifty-fourth to Fifty-sixth between Glade and Normal was recommended for vacation.

'Christmas Is Reminder Of Love's Power'

... Bracy Tells Students

"Christmas with its message of Peace and Goodwill is a reminder that Confuscious, Buddha, and Jesus have ruled through the years—not by the power of the sword or the might of the atom bomb, but rather by the spirit of love and truth."

These words keynoted a Christmas message delivered by Chancellor Carl C. Bracy at a traditional Christmas Noel on the Nebraska Wesleyan university campus lawn Tuesday night.

"In the midst of powers of darkness and the night of evil, the power of good breaks forth and shines like a star in a dark world," Dr. Bracy declared.

"The message of Christmas for a world where men are ruled and motivated by hate is love," the speaker continued. "The prevailing power of Christian religion is the compulsion of love."

Based On Toynebee.

Dr. Bracy based his remarks on an excerpt from the modern historian Arnold Toynbee, indicating that in all decaying civilizations, three factors are always present—fear, hate and excessive militarism.

"The annual observance of Christmas serves as a reminder that there are other values," Dr. Bracy observed. "Powerful rulers like Herod are not eternal. Christmas brings the reassurance and the conviction that God will not be denied. Faith must triumph over fear. Love will triumph over hate, and peace will reign over all the world."

Dr. Bracy's remarks followed the traditional Noel torchlight parade through the campus and a mass carol sing led by Prof. Oscar Bennett.

Nebraska Exhibit On Health Activities To New York City

Nebraska health activities will be used as examples in laboratory and seminar courses at Columbia university, New York City, Dr. Frank Ryder, director of health, was informed today.

The department prepared a panel exhibit that by its simplicity in showing public health activities in the state won considerable attention at the recent public health meeting in St. Louis. Columbia borrowed the exhibit.

They now write that it is to be "made part of training aids to public health students from all over the world." Yale university has also written for permission to use the panel.

Big 4 Parley Slated

West, In Principle, Accepts Soviet Plan For Talks On Germany

By CARL HARTMAN.

BRUSSELS, Belgium— (AP) — The big western powers held out new offers of peace to Russia and arms to Germany today.

Britain, France and the United States have accepted in principle Russia's proposal for a Big Four conference on the unification of divided Germany.

The three western nations are known to have stipulated, however, that the Russians discuss the whole range of problems that have been causing east-west friction. Russia proposed the conference to discuss only the unifying and neutralizing of Germany.

Notes Prepared.

The three countries have prepared similar notes to be dispatched shortly to the Kremlin.

The Big Three foreign ministers approved the notes last night. Today the foreign ministers of Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands got a look at them — more or less a gesture of international etiquette to the Benelux nation who with Britain and France, form the west European nation.

The representatives of these five nations today agreed to "reorganize" their joint military planning set-up to conform to the new international command established this week by the Atlantic powers.

Montgomery A Deputy?

Their announcement indicated an end to the western union military headquarters at Fontainebleau under Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery. A spokesman said, however, such a decision would be up to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the new commander of the international force the Atlantic nations hope to build to 1,000,000 men by the end of 1953.

Montgomery, reportedly, may become a deputy to Eisenhower.

The Atlantic council's historic decisions now will be placed before west German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. He and most other German leaders have voiced determination not to arm the Germans unless they get complete equality with the Atlantic powers.

Judge Rejects Request For Durbin Retrial

. . . In Murder Case

STOCKVILLE, Neb. — (AP) — District Judge Victor Westermark Tuesday overruled a motion by Defense Attorney Bruce Lyon for a new trial for 28-year-old Harvey Durbin, convicted here last week of first degree murder.

Durbin, an itinerant farm worker, was convicted in connection with the torch slaying of Norvel Johnson, Frontier county farmer. Mrs. Eva Johnson, wife of the slain man, pleaded guilty to second degree murder and testified during the Durbin trial that Durbin forced her to kill her husband.

In asking for the new trial, Lyon claimed the court should have allowed the defense to question Mrs. Johnson for purposes of impeachment when the defense called her to the stand a week ago Monday. Judge Westermark overruled the motion and sentenced Durbin to life imprisonment at the state penitentiary in accordance with the jury's verdict.

Durbin appeared to be completely undisturbed by the formal pronouncement of his sentence. As soon as court was dismissed, he took a cigar out of Sheriff Charles Scharf's coat pocket offered one to the court reporter, Kenneth Bamesberger. He casually discussed some of the "interesting" aspects of the case with Bamesberger.

Wished Court 'Merry Christmas.'

At one time Durbin turned to Sheriff Scharf and asked: "When we goin' down yonder?" He was referring to his trip to the penitentiary.

Durbin has been held at the county jail at Curtis since his trial, awaiting outcome of the motion for a new trial.

Korean War News Censored

Dispatches, Photos Must Be Given Security Clearance

Tokyo Headquarters Quickly Swamped With Copy

By RUSSELL BRINES.

TOKYO—(AP)—Gen. MacArthur's headquarters today imposed the right of censorship over all news of Korean military operations without calling it an act of censorship.

A memorandum from MacArthur's public information officer, Col. M. P. Echols, said news dispatches and photographers must be submitted in Korea or Japan for security "screening" and clearance by military authorities before being sent out.

The brief announcement did not specify any penalty for evasion or violation.

The order was effective immediately. The Tokyo headquarters press advisory division immediately became swamped with copy. The division up to then had operated solely as a guiding influence on news involving security.

From the beginning of the Korean war June 25 correspondents were placed on their honor not to disclose information that might help the reds. This voluntary system didn't always work. Some so-called news "beats" resulted from rather loose individual interpretations by war correspondents on what constituted security.

Since early in the campaign some of the press had asked for the imposition of formal censorship—not only to provide real security on important military moves, but to give all correspondents an even break on big stories bearing on marginal security considerations.

Advocate Censorship.

Lt. Gen. Sir Horace Robertson, British occupation chief in Japan and commander of commonwealth troops in Korea repeatedly had advocated formal censorship of Korean war news. He said intervention by the Chinese reds made such action imperative.

Army authorities in Tokyo have contended they lacked the manpower to enforce such censorship and that it would be ineffective without similar regulations in Washington and other world capitals.

Voluntary news blackouts prevailed; correspondents generally followed the established practice of not sending certain information unless some individual correspondent broke the story ahead of time and thus gave the enemy access to the information.

Today's clearance-before-filing order was announced after a series of stories which MacArthur's headquarters said breached security.

Free-Meter Day Voted By Council For Tying Record

With an eye to a future record the city council voted Monday to provide for a free parking meter day Jan. 8, 1951 as a result of the city tying the old safety record of only three traffic deaths for one year.

The free meter day, however, is based on the provision that no more traffic fatalities occur before the end of the year. The same record was scheduled for motorists a week ago when the city was riding a string of 241 days without a traffic fatality.

On Monday night, Dec. 11, a traffic death at Sixteenth an O streets broke the long string and a possible annual record. Now, the city is even with 1943 and 1944 when there was also only three traffic deaths.

Richard Vestecka, chamber of commerce representative, told the council that "the public still did a good job and should be rewarded."

Some Exports Suspended By Red Chinese

HONG KONG—(AP)—The pro-communist newspaper Ta Kung Pao reported today red China had suspended the exports of six major commodities in retaliation of the U. S. ban on shipments to that nation.

The newspaper said the ban applied to tung oil, teaseed oil, cinnamon bark, peanuts, hog bristles and ramie (fiore). Ta Kung Pao said traders in Hong Kong had been notified.

Hospital At Ogalalla Is Given Okay

The state hospital advisory council meeting Monday approved the application of Ogallala for federal funds to assist in the construction of a $500,000 hospital. Earlier the application had been rejected due to shortage of funds.

Planning for the hospital aid project had been made on the basis of an allocation of $1,300,000 to the state following the pattern of previous years. This was reduced one-half by congress.

About one-third of the state's share or $240,793 had been approved for aid in equipping a psychiatric clinic at St. Joseph's hospital. This is a reduction in the usual matching as by agreement all building costs will be assumed by the hospital.

At the state health department, it was explained that by close re-figuring of funds allocated to state hospitals it will be possible to add the Ogallala project for which it was first thought funds would not be available.

Loup City, Schuyler and Lewellen also apepared before the advisory committee to present arguments why they should have priority to funds.

The St. Joseph's hospital application has received approval of the public health service, it was announced. Several other projects in the state are awaiting final approval.

Miss Munn Is Head Hospital Library Group

Miss Eunice Munn, Bryan Memorial hospital, was chosen president of the newly organized Lincoln chapter of the Nebraska Medical Records Librarians association Tuesday at Lincoln General hospital.

Other officers named:

Sister Reiola, St. Elizabeth, vice president.

Miss Helen E. Bauer, Orthopedic hospital, secretary-treasurer.

The Lincoln librarians had previously belonged to the Omaha chapter.

Sister Pophnutiania, St. Elizabeth, president of the state association, led a discussion on duties of a medical record librarian. She also outlined necessary qualifications for registration.

The group voted to invite hospital librarians from surrounding towns to the Lincoln chapter meetings which will be held the fourth Tuesday of every month.

Host at the Jan. 23 meeting will be Bryan Memorial. The hospitals participating in the program are Bryan Memorial, Lincoln General, Orthopedic, St. Elizabeth and the state hospital.

The Star Goes To A Party

Here we found Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Hardy, Jack Devoe and Bill Golding having a perfectly wonderful time choosing and sampling the hors de 'oeuvres.

In one corner of the ball room we found this group busily engaged with greetings and conversation—From left to right we have Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flansburg, J. Wallace de Brown, Richard de Brown (home from New York City for Christmas), Mrs. J. Wallace de Brown, Mrs. Howard Agee of Omaha, and Mr. Agee.

One of the very festive pre-holiday parties was the 5 o'clock to 7 o'clock hors d'oeuvres affair Tuesday evening at the Lincoln Country club for which Mrs. Willard M. Folsom, Lowe Folsom, Mr. and Mrs. Willard W. Folsom, and Mr and Mrs. Burton Folsom were hosts and hostesses in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leslie Grainger of Salinas, Cal., who have just arrived to spend the holiday season with Mrs. Grainger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. White, and Mr. Grainger's grandmother, Mrs. C. F. Ladd.

The receiving line formed in the lounge, before the fireplace, and after greeting the honored guests and the host and hostesses, the hors d'oeuvre table in the ball room was the center of attention. A mound of poinsettia blooms, inset with lighted Christmas candles, appointed the large square table laden with a variety of canapes.

350 Attend City Employes' Party

One of the most successful city employes' Christmas parties in years was held Tuesday night as 350 persons crowded the Welfare Society hall full to the doors.

The highlight of the evening's entertainment was furnished by 5-year-old Frankie Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Schultz of 1227 Otoe. His songs were loudly applauded by the group.

Also on the program string group composed of Charles Patterson, Milt Kellog, Kenneth Ratsloff, Dale Trumble and Bob Miller.

Mac Hunt, a magician, and songs by Jim Watkins were also featured. Sherman Smith, accompanied by Ethel Owens, led group singing.

The children were presented with a bag of candy with a gift inside.

Another Christmas party, for city hall employes, will be held in the street floor lobby of the city hall Friday afternon. Names have been drawn by the group for the exchange of presents which will be passed out by Santa Claus.

The date on which Spring arrives varies from March 19 to March 21.

Food Packages Are Mailed For Needy Families

The Salvation Army has announced that 150 Christmas Cheer food packages were placed in the mail Wednesday afternoon to be sent to needy families in Lincoln.

"Christmas would have been a joyless day for many families without this aid," a spokesman said. More than 200 food orders will be given out by Saturday evening.

These orders may be taken to any grocery store in Lincoln for purchase of groceries or meat before December 25. Funds for this work are derived from the three "Christmas Cheer" huts on Lincoln streets, and from donations mailed to Salvation Army headquarters.

The Salvation Army explained that all families applying for aid are cleared through the holiday bureau at the Community Chest headquarters, and that, as far as possible, duplications in aid administration are avoided.

MRS. FREDERIC MENDELL ARCHERD

MRS. EDWARD A. BARTUNEK

WEDDING OF MISS JACQUELINE BECKER, FREDERIC WENDELL ARCHERD, SOLEMNIZED

For the wedding of Miss Jacqueline Becker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wesley C. Becker, and Frederic Mendell Archerd, son of Mrs. Mabel Archerd of Stockton, Cal., and Frederic S. Archerd of Lincoln, which was an event of Tuesday afternoon, December 19, the chancel of the Westminster Presbyterian church was lined with tall Christmas trees to create a background for the arrangements of long-stemmed poinsettias, and the white carpeted processional aisle was marked with lighted cathedral candles caught with sprays of holly and snow-frosted pine.

The 4:30 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. John Douglas Clyde, minister of Westminster church, and the wedding music was played by Miss Josephine Waddell, organist. Miss Waddell presented a prelude of Christmas music as the guests assembled, and also accompanied Miss Janell Mohr of Scottsbluff who sang "Until," and "Ich Liebe Dich," preceding the ceremony.

The attendants, Mrs. William Stoner, jr., who was her sister's matron of honor and who appeared in the berry red shade—the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Reinhard, Miss Jayne Carter, Miss Gretchen Bowles, and Miss Martha Jane Shaw of Wichita, Kas., and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Nancy Brown of Hot Springs, S. D., in the holly green tone, wore identically styled frocks of silk taffeta. Fitted Eton jackets, cuffed at the throat and brief sleeves, were worn over snug bodices and the wide skirts of ballerina length were fashioned with a voluminous floating front panel to give accentuated fullness, and were worn over crinoline. Each wore a half-hat of taffeta to reflect the tone of her frock as did the opera slippers. Their bouquets were of feathered red carnations and holly. Holly green taffeta frocks also were worn by the small flower girls, Carol and Kay Stoner, nieces of the bride. The candles were lighted by Miss Mary Margaret Loomis and Miss Caroline Rogers, both in white satin choir robes.

The bridegroom's father served him as best man, and seating the guests were William M. Stoner, jr., Richard Spangler, jr., Roger Runion and Robert Seacrest.

The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. Her gown of candlelight-toned satin was designed with a long-sleeved molded bodice, in which a deep yoke of illusion was contoured with a motif of seed pearls and sequins to create an off-shoulder effect, which was completed with an Elizabethan point at the waist. The folds of the very full skirt swept into a cathedral train. Her veil of imported illusion was fingertip length, and was held to the head with a half-hat of net accentuated with bands of satin. She carried a spray of yellow-throated, white phalaenopfis orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors where the refreshment tables were arranged against a background of Christmas trees and poinsettias, and covered with green satin cloths. Tall red tapers, holly sprays and mounds of red carnations appointed the tables. Assisting in receiving the guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. Myron Loomis, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis C. Kimball, Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Battey and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stuart. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Lester M. Buckley, Mrs. Fred Coleman, Mrs. Stanley Zemer, Mrs. Larry Becker, Mrs. A. J. Stenten, Mrs. W. M. Stoner, Mrs. Walter Stevens, Mrs. Hugh Sherwood, Mrs. Wendell Nickerson, Mrs. Charles Ganz, Mrs. E. R. Heiny, Mrs. William Stenten, Mrs. Earl Carter, Mrs. John Seleck, Mrs. O. A. Reinhard, Mrs. Milton Blankenship, Mrs. William Cartmell, Mrs. Dale Anderson, Miss Donna Rae Barton, Miss Marilyn Ogden, Miss Marian Willey, Miss Carmen Christoffel, Miss Jane Linn, Miss Jane Calhoun, Miss Carolyn Carter, Miss Joyce Griffith, Miss Mary Sidner, Miss Joan Carveth, Miss Carol Calder, Miss Jean Stevens, Miss Margaret Chamberlain, Miss Anne Barger, Miss Pat Hinds, Miss Shirley Sidles, Miss Margery Van Pelt, Miss Sara Devoe, Miss Margaret Thomsen, Miss Sarah Fulton, Miss Jackie Sorenson, Miss Mary Russell, Miss Joan Selleck, Mrs. Thomas Podhaisky and Mrs. Donald Lentz.

For the southern honeymoon trip, after which Mr. Archerd and his bride will return to Lincoln where they will reside at 3242 South street, Mrs. Archerd wore a tailored navy-blue and white checked suit, with red topper, and navy accessories.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Archerd are attending the University of Nebraska where the bride is a member of Alpha Phi sorority, and the bridegroom of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Here is where the party officially began—with the receiving line. Our photographer appeared just in time to catch Mrs. Wardner G. Scott greeting Mrs. Willard M. Folsom, with Mr. Scott next in line. At the right of Mrs. Folsom we found Mrs. Robert Leslie Grainger, Mr. Grainger, and Lowe Folsom.

We also took some pictures of the remainder of the receiving line, but the hosts and hostesses were completely obscured by backs—so we gave up.

MISS JOAN BONEBRIGHT WEDS EDWARD A. BARTUNEK

With only the immediate members of the families and a small group of close friends attending the ceremony, the marriage of Miss Doris Joan Bonebright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bloyce Bonebright, to Edward A. Bartunek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bartunek, was an event of Tuesday evening, December 19, in the chapel of the First-Plymouth Congregational church.

The Rev. Raymond A. McConnell solemnized the 8 o'clock double ring service before a background of white snapdragons, white and bronze chrysanthemums, arranged in pedestal baskets, and lighted cathedral candles in seven-branched candelabra. Miss Gwen McCormack, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Lorraine Coats of Stuart, who sang "Because," and "Through the Years," preceding the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer," at the close of the benediction.

As the maid of honor and only attendant, Miss JoAnne Weaver appeared in a long-skirted off-shoulder frock in copper-toned satin. Above the slender waist the bodice was snugly closed in the front with self-covered buttons. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations, and the blossoms were repeated in the bandeau for her hair. The candles were lighted by Miss Gretchen Lomax whose off-shoulder frock was fashioned of aqua satin. Her hair bandeau of carnations reflected the tone of her frock.

James Peterson of Centerville, S. D., served Mr. Bartunek as best man, and seating the guests were Thomas W. Scott and Lyle Wright.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white satin. A wide bertha of satin, edged with Venice lace, encircled the shoulders of the long-sleeved fitted bodice, which was closed in front with self-covered buttons from the high, rounded neckline to the Elizabethan point at the waist. The full, softly gathered skirt swirled into an aisle-wide train. Her tiered veil of illusion was held to the head with a halo brim of lace encrusted with seed pearls, and she carried a white prayer book topped with white carnations from which fell a shower of satin ribbons caught with clusters of feathered white carnations.

For the reception, which was held in the church parlors following the ceremony, the refreshment table was arranged with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake ornamented with a wedding bell and encircled with white carnations and greenery. On either side of the centerpiece were tall white candles. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. J. C. Weaver, Mrs. Wayne Bonebright, Miss Charlea Horham, Miss Pamela Kinne, Miss Alice Prang, Miss Bonnie Weddel, Mrs. Donald Ferguson, Miss Beverly Reed and Miss Marijo Housel.

After a honeymoon trip to Kansas City and southern states, Mr. Bartunek and his bride will return to Lincoln where they will reside at 1039 South Eleventh street. For traveling Mrs. Bartunek wore a wine-toned gabardine suit, with dusty pink and wine accessories.

Mrs. Bartunek will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Delta sorority, Pi Mu Epsilon, and Delta Omicron. The bridegroom will be graduated next August from the University of Nebraska, and is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, Sigma Tau and Pi Tau Sigma, engineering honoraries.

Ogallala Host To Wheat Levy Meet

OGALLALA, Neb.—The Nebraska Wheat Research foundation has scheduled a meeting here Friday to discuss further plans for pushing toward legislation which would put a levy on all wheat marketed from Nebraska farms.

The levy was proposed at a previous meeting of the organization's board of directors. The money from the levy—one to five cents a bushel—would be used to speed up research work in production, handling, storage and marketing problems and finance studies to find new industrial uses for wheat. The fund also would be used to conduct campaigns for increasing the consumption of wheat when surpluses threaten.

Wheat farmers attending the first meeting were asked to discuss the proposal with their neighbors. Those attending included farmers from Keith, Perkins, Chase, Deuel, Cheyenne, Kimball and Garden counties.

The Dec. 22 meeting is scheduled for 10 a. m. in the Keith county courthouse.

5-Point Plan For Welfare Gets Approval

A five-point program was approved by the legislative committee of the Nebraska Welfare association for presentation to the 1951 session of the state legislature.

In a meeting at the Cornhusker hotel Tuesday night the group approved legislation that would:

1. Amend the present aid to dependent children statute and permit continuation of the grants up to 18-year-olds provided they are still enrolled in high school.
2. Prosecute fathers who desert their families and flee to other states.
3. Provide a reciprocal residence clause to the old age assistance law.
4. Require juvenile courts to make a written study on every case before a decision is made.
5. Provide against the giving away of babies by unmarried mothers without the consent of the juvenile court.

Rev. Floyd F. Fischer, Omaha, chairman of the committee, said legislation of this sort would stop the black market on babies.

After hearing a report on the need for boarding homes for children in the 93 counties of the state, the board decided there was not enough information to warrant a proposal for state aid.

Betty Balks; Bandit Bagged

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Betty Jean Brandell, 21, was wearing a new suit when a gunman walked into the drugstore where she was shopping yesterday.

Ordered to lie on the floor, she snapped:

"I won't. I just paid $75 for this suit and I don't want to get it dirty."

She got away with it—and the gunman got away with $500.

His soft-heartedness, however, put the holdup man in jail. Miss Bandell got a good look at him and was able to identify a suspect arrested later by sheriff's deputies.

Nebraska Cities Are Moving Ahead With Civilian Defense

Omaha And Lincoln—Best Targets—Have Taken Steps In Case Of Bombs, Sabotage

By E. E. MAKIESKY.
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Nebraska cities are rapidly building up their civilian defenses.

Most of them have taken solid "first steps," which include completion of civilian defense committees and appointment of directors. Some already are surveying availability of resources needed to meet an emergency.

An Associated Press survey shows all cities are earnestly working on the problem of civil defense. Considerable progress has been made throughout Nebraska since a similar AP survey last Oct. 2. At that time cities had just scratched the surface; civilian defense planning was mostly in the discussion stage.

Legislation Expected.

On the state level defense plans have been pushed vigorously too. Gov. Val Peterson has named a state advisory defense committee to co-ordinate the work of cities and counties. He probably will ask the legislature which convenes Jan. 2 for an appropriation for a full time director and a small operating staff required to co-ordinate the defense preparations.

Governor Peterson and other state officials are in touch with federal officials and have met with officials of their states. Just last week Gov. Peterson met with state officials of six states at Oklahoma City to discuss industrial defense. Representatives from Omaha, Lincoln, Beatrice, North Platte, Clay Center, Holdrege, Blair, Kearney and Deshler were among the 30 Nebraskans who attended.

Omaha and Lincoln, probably the most vulnerable to attack because they are the state's largest cities, are well along in their plans for defense against atomic and other forms of attack.

Sam W. Reynolds has been named civil defense director in Omaha. He has named nine deputy directors to direct vital services in the defense program.

Sabotage A Danger.

Reynolds believes sabotage, not the atom bomb, should be the chief concern in Omaha. He does not feel Omaha is a prime target for an atom bomb, although he wants the city to be prepared for such an eventuality, too.

In Lincoln, city public safety director Ray Osborn has been named defense director. A committee has been named to work with him. Meanwhile the Lancaster county sheriff's office has completed a list of available vehicles with names of crews to man them during an emergency. The county has been divided in 25 districts with defense committees for each district.

In other Nebraska cities the civilian defense picture sizes up this way:

Kearney—A Buffalo county civil defense committee has been organized, with Sheriff Lloyd Frank as county director. Eight subcommittees have been organized under the sheriff's direction. These include an advisory committee consisting of a representative from each community in the county. Mayor John D. Wolf is chairman of the advisory group.

Norfolk — A civilian defense program has been inaugurated under the direction of Mayor B. A. McCreary. He estimates 513 volunteers will be needed to handle the program being formulated with the assistance of the Red Cross chapter. The Red Cross disaster organization, formed two years ago when the heavy snow covering posted a flood threat, will be incorporated into Norfolk's defense program.

Fremont—Each town in Dodge county has named a civil defense director who will serve on the county's civil defense advisory committee, headed by Mayor Carl F. Olson of Fremont. Sheriff Pelham McGee is county director. A survey is under way to ascertain what is available in the way of fire and emergency equipment, emergency hospital facilities, heavy construction equipment, doctors and other medical personnel, and number of persons experienced in first aid.

McCook—The city council has approved city manager C. F. Trinkle's plan calling for appointment of a nine-member defense council. The council will select a director to co-ordinate fire, police, street, water, civil air patrol and Red Cross in a civil defense program. A Civil Air Patrol sectional headquarters has been set up in McCook where one of four CAP radio transmitters in the state operates in the Sheriff's office.

Chadron — City manager Richard C. O'Reilly has been authorized by the city council to organize a civilian defense committee. Chadron officials believe there is little likelihood of an attack in that area and therefore feel their chief task should be geared to handling persons evacuated from either coast during an emergency. They expect to center their activities around surveying availability of such facilities as rooms, housing, food, doctors, nurses, etc.

Grand Island—No formal action taken yet.

Beatrice—Gage County Sheriff E. G. Maxwell is the county defense chief with Mayor Harry Price serving as Beatrice chief. A meeting to organize various towns in the county is planned.

Scottsbluff—Mayor Victor R. Blackledge says a plan has been presented to the city council and tentatively approved, but no appointments have been made. The plan calls for a director of civilian defense and disaster relief, and an advisory council of department heads.

Nebraska City—T. Simpson Morton, major in Nebraska's 134th infantry during World war II, has been named Otoe county civilian defense director.

Meanwhile State Treasurer Edward Gillette is serving as acting state defense chairman by appointment by Gov. Peterson. It is his job to co-ordinate the work in Nebraska.

The state patrol figures prominently in state plans and has taken stock of its facilities for use during an emergency.

There are nine state patrol radio stations. Patrol cars equipped with mobile transmitters as well as receivers can communicate with one another. But so far the stations do not have auxiliary power units which could be used in transmitting in event power supply failed. Capt. C. J. Sanders says consideration is being given to getting such stand-by power units.

Fourteen principal cities have short-wave police transmitters, and about the same number of counties have them. Commercial broadcasting stations also would be used in case of emergency, Sanders said. In Omaha news editors of radio stations met recently with Civil Defense Director Reynolds to discuss the vital part radio and television will play in civilian defense.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By WALTER KIERNAN.
(Distributed by International News Serv.)

No use flinching now men . . . It's either finish your Christmas shopping or retire to a previously prepared position.

KIERNAN

All I know is I saw a fellow wearing the silver star and he gritted his teeth and closed his eyes before hurling himself into the lingerie department.

And the only opposition I saw awaiting him looked pretty gorgeous.

When he came out he said, "As between the commies and cuties, the cuties give you a worse battle at a time like this."

Of course this won't be our sprightliest Christmas, but even the fellows with mud on their shoes and the tired look in their eyes wouldn't have us pass it up.

As one of them said, "We may have to look 'way up beyond the U. N. to the answers for this mess and the best place to look is up . . . Some of us have kind of forgotten that."

And Christmas is the season to remember it.

Young Hunter Shot To Death

. . . At Plattsmouth

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb. —(AP) —A teen-age Plattsmouth hunter was accidentally shot to death Tuesday.

The youth, Lester Holman, jr., had gone hunting rabbits and crows with two companions. Cass County Sheriff Tom Solomon said young Holman was emptying his shotgun of shells and had ejected one when the gun discharged.

Holman was struck in the stomach and died instantly.

County Coroner Walter Smith said the death was accidental.

Holman's parents, Mr. and Mrs Lester Holman, sr., live two miles north of Plattsmouth.

Dixie Lee To Stage A 'Comeback'; Appears On Crosby Family Show

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The Bing Crosby family, en masse, will be on the ol' groaner's CBS radio show tonight.

Mrs. Crosby, the former Dixie Lee, decided to break her 15-year retirement and appear in a special Christmas program with Bing and their four sons, Gary, Dennis, Phillip and Lindsay.

The boys have appeared frequently, sometimes giving Pop a run for his money in the quick wisecrack department. But Mrs. Crosby hasn't made a show business appearance since she did a movie in 1935.

Other 'Anna Rosenberg' Is Found

Senate Ready To Confirm Nomination Of Assistant Secretary

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The FBI has located "the other Anna Rosenberg," who used to attend left-wing meetings, and so the senate is ready to confirm the nomination of Anna M. Rosenberg as assistant secretary of defense.

Senator Byrd (D-Va) told a reporter the vote may come around 4 p. m. today.

It will give the seinate's final answer to charges — explored in one of the most intensive investigations ever made into a presidential appointment — that Mrs. Rosenberg ever was a communist or that she attended communist meetings in New York City 15 years ago.

The armed services committee unanimously reported yesterday that "there is no evidence to support the charges."

Testimony Disputed.

One witness, Ralph De Sola, a New York City microfilm technician and self-styled former communist, claimed to have seen Mrs. Rosenberg at meetings of the John Reed club in New York in 1935.

All witnesses De Sola claimed could verify his testimony either disputed it or denied any knowledge.

Mrs. Rosenberg emphatically denied all De Sola's charges and in a face-to-face encounter said she had never seen him.

She attributed the complaint to the fact that many Anna Rosenbergs lived in New York City then and one of them had been active in the communist group.

FBI Found Other Woman.

Byrd, an armed services committee member, told the senate yesterday that FBI agents "located an Anna Rosenberg who was associated with the John Reed club in New York City in the early 1930s."

He added:

"This woman, whose maiden name was Anna Rosenberg, admits to the FBI agents that she was associated with the John Reed club in New York City from shortly after its founding until 1934 when she moved to California and that she knew no other Anna Rosenberg who was associated with the John Reed club."

The Mrs. Rosenberg whose appointment is pending has been serving for a month as a manpower consultant to Secretary of Defense Marshall. She did similar work for the government in World war II.

Probation Given In Child Support Case

A 34-year-old Oklahoma City man was placed on three-year probation by District Judge J. H. Broady after pleading guilty to failure to pay alimony for child support.

Deputy County Attorney Herbert A. Ronin said Harold J. Frost had not paid any support money for his three children, ages 11, eight and six, for two years. The Frosts were divorced in November, 1948.

Frost recently was returned here to answer the charge.

Ackerman Heads Advance Gifts Of March Of Dimes

James N. Ackerman, Lincoln attorney, will be advanced gifts division chairman for the 1951 March of dimes campaign which begins Jan. 15, Harry E. Bradford, campaign chairman announced.

Ackerman, who lives at 3070 Stratford, has also announced the members of his committee: John H. Agee, Joseph J. Cariotta, Dr. Norman C. Carlson, Arthur A. Dobson, Mrs. E. J. Faulkner, Mrs. Bruce Hazen, Leo Hill, Mrs. Roscoe Hill, Rev. A. J. Kraemer, Woodrow R. Magee, Mrs. Arthur L. Smith, Dr. George E. Stafford, Dr. Fritz Teal, Robert C. Venner, Steven N. Watkins and Rev. C. Vin White.

In accepting the post as advanced gifts chairman, Ackerman said: "Continuing care in cases carried over from past years, now commands three-fourths of our current funds. The Lancaster county chapter is at present overdrawn at national healquarters by over $8,000.

"Serious consideration is even now being given to curtailing the research work of the national foundation because of the critical demand for direct relief to stricken polio patients. This would be a terrific blow, for we all recognize that the real hope for victory over polio lies in the work being done in the laboratories and clinics."

Senator For Non-Partisan Unicameral

The present method of electing Nebraska legislators on a non-political ballot had a defender today.

State Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City wrote the Associated Press:

"My experience in serving the last session convinces me that it brings a truer opinion of the majority of the people, and a closer contact with those who represent them, than would be the case in a partisan body."

Bridenbaugh added that he would like to see unicameral members elected for four-year, staggered terms.

"In my way of thinking this would give a greater number of experienced men for each session and would also be an incentive for more people to file and run, knowing that they would have the privilege of serving twice," he added.

Four-year staggered terms for legislators was one of the provisions of the proposed constitutional amendment rejected by the voters in the Nov. 7 election.

The make-up of the legislature is due for some debate in the coming session, which convenes two weeks from today.

Sen. Arthur Carmody of Trenton told the Associated Press yesterday that he planned to introduce a bill to have members elected on a partisan, or political, basis.

Carmody said he would retain the one-house system, and in this Bridenbaugh concurs.

"I am very much in favor of the one-house system," the Dakota City senator declared.

Bridenbaugh said he would renew his efforts for an act to put a business man at the head of the highway department.

He sponsored such a measure two years ago and pointed out today it failed of passage by only one vote.

Hutchins Quits Head Post At Chicago Uni.

. . . To Ford Foundation

CHICAGO—(INS)— The University of Chicago reluctantly began preparations today to find a successor to Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins who resigned after 21 years as the university's head to become associate director of the $250,000,000 Ford foundation.

The university announced that President Ernest C. Colwell temporarily will take over the duties of chancellor Jan. 1, when Hutchins begins a leave of absence running until June 30, the effective date of his resignation.

Paul Hoffman, president of the Ford Foundation, announced in Pasadena, Calif., yesterday that Hutchins and Chester C. Davis, president of the Federal Reserve bank of St. Louis, had accepted associate directorship in the philanthropic enterprise.

It is believed Hutchins will head the foundation's educational division, recently pledged to a program which mirrors many of Hutchins' views on American education.

Hutchins began making educational history in 1923, when he was named secretary of Yale university at the age of 24. Four years later, a "boy wonder," he became dean of Yale's law school, and in 1929 he was named president of the University of Chicago.

Truman's Control Program Workage Doubted By Butler

WASHINGTON—(AP) — Senator Butler (R-Neb) thinks the only kind of wage and price controls that will work are those applied generally.

Commenting on President Truman's Friday night speech calling for selective price and wage controls, Butler said he doubted if they would work.

Butler also said he hopes the president and his assistants will recognize that co-operation with the other western powers is a two-way road.

"The desire to work to the fullest to preserve freedom must exist in the hearts of all nations. American effort must be matched with an equivalent effort from those nations whom the president seeks to strengthen."

Gas Contract Given

A contract for 15,000 gallons of regular gasoline was awarded to the Texas company by the county commissioners. The company's bid of 17.273 cents per gallon was the lowest of two bids.

Jim Lewis Wins First Prize For Home Decoration

The scene of a shepherd gazing at the star of Bethlehem won the junior chamber of commerce's home decorating contest for a 19-year-old boy.

He is Jim L. Lewis, the son of Dr. and Mrs. George E. Lewis, of 3015 South Twentieth.

First prize gave Lewis another $25. He won the first $25 Monday night as one of six zone winners.

The scene had an illuminated shepherd gazing at a lone white star atop a large evergreen tree. Beneath the shepherd and in black light was a quotation from the book of Matthew—"And, lo, the Star."

The evergreen with the star and its twin were both covered with blue lights.

One judge from each of the six zone judging teams voted on the winning entry. William C. Goggins headed the lighting committee for the junior chamber.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Huskers Edge Iowa State Teachers, 63-55

Sub Jesse Sell Paces NU Rally In Last 8 Moments

By NORRIS ANDERSON.

JESSE SELL, the 190-pound jack of all sports from Louisville, was in a University of Nebraska hero's toga today.

Jesse's hustle and sharpshooting sparked a rally in the last eight minutes to give the Huskers a 63-55 victory over Iowa State Teachers Tuesday night at the coliseum.

Picture the scene.

The score is knotted, 48-48, and an upset appears in the wind.

Iowa Tutors, a small-statured gang, were simply passing and running the docile Huskers into the ground.

Into this breach stepped the long-limbed Sell, a senior who is seeking his first Husker letter. Jesse is all determination and hustle.

PULLS 'EM AHEAD.

Before you can wink twice, Sell's free throw pushes the Huskers ahead, 49-48.

There's two free throws by Bucky Buchanan, a front shot by Sell, a set-up by Pierce and a set-up and tip-in by Sell.

In three short moments, the Huskers have boosted their lead to 57-50.

From there, the coast is on. Mr. Sell, it winds up, has made seven of the 15 points collected by the Huskers in those wind-up eight moments. It looks like Mr. Sell has found his place in the Nebraska "N" club.

It was touch and go all the way until the last eight months.

LED AT HALF.

The Iowans led, 31-30, at halftime on a late flurry in the final two moments of the half.

It was tied up, 42-42 with 13 minutes left of the game. At this stage Buchanan, the Husker floor leader, accumulated his fourth foul.

Affairs were deadlocked at 44-44, then 46-46, then 48-48. At this point, young Jesse arrived.

Iowa Teachers, although small as an average high school unit, were long on passing ability, floor speed and play-setting keenness.

PIERCE PACES.

Nebraska hit 24 of 61 shots while the smaller foe hit 22 of 76, mostly long ones.

Pierce paced the Husker attack with 14, followed by Buchanan with 12. Dick Garth and Don Erickson nailed 12 and 11 for the invaders.

Nebraska, with a 3-4 record, next meets South Dakota U. in the coliseum, Jan. 3.

The Kansas City tourney for Big Seven teams, commencing Dec. 27, is the next out-of-town competition for the Huskers.

Plattsmouth Opens CV's EN 7 Action

. . . At Irving Tonight

By BOB DECKER
(Star Sports Staff Member)

College View will open their Eastern Nebraska Seven conference schedule when they play host to the always-tough Plattsmouth team Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Coach Dick Short has had his boys working all week on correcting the mistakes made against Teachers high. These errors, along with the Viewmen's failure to control the boards, undoubtedly hurt their chances to give a better account of themselves against Stan Matzke & Co.

The Viewmen play a fast-breaking game and they must get the ball off the boards to start their fast break. Coach Short states that "we must play a much better brand of ball than that which we showed against Teachers in order to win our opening conference game."

THREE VETS?

The reasons for Short's statement are that Plattsmouth has three returning starters; they were nosed out by Omaha South, and they are always tough in the Eastern Nebraska Seven conference. Plattsmouth has two high scorers returning this year, Denker and Cole, and they will be the boys the Viewmen must shackle.

Coach Short has decided to stick with his starting five of Stan Muggy and Clyde Cook, guards; Durward VanCleave, center; Bob Leslie and Gary Lyons, forwards. Ralph Borgman is slated to see plenty of action at a forward or guard position. He will replace either Lyons or VanCleave, with Cook taking over the center slot when big VanCleave leaves the game.

A preliminary game is scheduled for 6:30 between the reserves of both schools.

On Hard Guys With Soft Hearts

HERE among Korean war casualties was the line: "Gunnery Sergeant Leo Hearn, United States marines, wounded in action."

Down further in the Los Angeles Times was something about Sergeant Hearn, despite a bullet in the shoulder, sticking by his machine gun, a pile of Korean Red fanatics curled in death in front of him. He should get a medal, the story said.

We could hear him scoff at that. Give the medals to the generals, he'd growl.

Leo The Lash had been collecting chest lettuce ever since Guadalcanal, yet a ribbon had never adorned his broad frame. He was not fighting for ribbons.

The gunny sergeant was a professional fighting man, a career marine. Fight was his business.

Our first glimpse of Sergeant Hearn occurred at a spot called Parris Island some seven years ago.

There was the gunny sergeant, 6-4 and 220 pounds of solid toughness, snarling defiance at a boot camp platoon. The idea was to rush him, bayonet fixed. He would demonstrate how to ward off the charge.

"Come on, you stupid boots!" he'd roar. "Make me bleed!"

On and on they would rush, young eager boots, bayonets fixed, charging at full speed. It took guts to stand off 40 or so wild recruits. The gunny sergeant had plenty.

It became rumored around the Island that the gunny sergeant was not human. He was a giant from the black pits, a devil spitting molten lead and snarling curses.

HIS job was to mold soft civilians into hardened marines. He relentlessly pursued the task. They said he didn't have a heart.

He became known as The Lash—and the handle stuck.

After three years and a world of ocean skimmed by, we sort of forgot about Gunnery Sergeant Leo Hearn.

It was on Taku boulevard in Peiking, China, when we next saw the big lug.

There was a traffic jam, an unmistakable human roar and a scene you chuckle over today. The gunny sergeant was standing up in a ricksha, face aflame, shouting top speed at a coolie who didn't savvy English.

The ricksha was in the middle of an intersection, blocking traffic on all sides. Leo The Lash, in his gentle way, was trying to tell the driver which way to turn.

Roaring Leo, it seems, was now top sergeant of the First Marines. There was another scar on his face, this a bullet crease on his right cheek from Okinawa, and he was mean as ever.

THERE came the day before Christmas and the gunny sergeant disappeared.

None of his men seemed to know where he was spending his evenings. Probably drunk somewhere.

This time, it was an emergency, a long distance phone call from Hawaii. He had left a phone number. The answer was he was there but could not come to the phone. A corporal took down the address.

We manned a jeep and headed for the address. It turned out to be a small hospital in the outskirts of Tientsin.

A Chinese nurse and doctor greeted us at the door. Sergeant Hearn? He was with his patients.

We peeked in the door. There sat the big lug, beaming broadly a little Chinese youngster on each knee, four or five more at his feet amidst a pile of bright packages. In the corner we recognized a small Christmas tree that had mysteriously disappeared from the non-com club.

The gunny sergeant, said the doctor, had picked most of these kids off the streets. Some had been starving, some were dying of one of the countless diseases of the Orient. All had been lying in the gutters, waiting to die as they do in China.

The Big Lug had rented those two hospital rooms, said the Doc, and was paying for medical aid. After that, he intended to send them all to school—all nine of 'em.

We just kept on staring, mouths open and unbelieving. Telephone call be hanged—we didn't dare interrupt.

You see, the gunny sergeant wouldn't want it known that he was just an old softy after all.

Angling Back On Scene As Hunting Fades

With the cessation of all hunting seasons except those on rabbits and squirrels, fishing, largely forgotten during the past three months, comes back into the outdoor sports spotlight.

Frigid weather, thick ice and a baited hook are the prerequisites for the state's growing ice angling populace. With most waters now covered with thick layers of ice, more and more sportsmen are daily trekking to their favorite fishin' holes and a battle with the nor-dormant fish, mainly perch.

Huge McConaughy reservoir again promises to be one of the main attractions for the ice anglers. Dewey lake and most of the sandhills lakes, all stocked with perch, also will draw heavily on the ice-fishing members.

MOST LEGAL.

With the exception of trout, the season on which ran from April 1 through Oct. 31, all fish are legal take during the winter months. The same regulations which governed fishing throughout the spring, summer and fall months are continued in force during the winter season. The bag limits are the same.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Gregory Zitrides, former Darthmouth star, resigned as coach at Brown.

At Oberlin, O., Tuesday night Oberlin took an overtime victory from Peru, 67 to 64.

Only one starter finished the game. The rest went out on personal fouls. The man who finished was Forward Harold Erlenbach. He made the six points in the extra period that won the game.

The night's high scorer was Omer Meeker of Peru. He collected 27 points, a new individual record for the 2-year-old field house at Oberlin.

KEARNEY TRIPPED.

Meanwhile, at Kearney, Buena Vista college achieved a 50-50 record for its Nebraska trip by beating Kearney 57 to 46. Doane beat the Storm Lake, Ia., team Monday night.

Kearney led 27 to 23 at the half and the lead changed three times as the teams traded baskets before Buena Vista took control midway in the second half.

Bo McMillin Quits Lions

Onetime Hoosier Mentor Has No Immediate Future Plans

By CHARLES C. CAIN.

DETROIT—(AP)—The Detroit Lions were in the market for a new head coach and general manager Wednesday after the veteran Alvin "Bo" McMillin resigned the dual post in a surprise move Tuesday.

The 55-year-old McMillin, who headed Detroit's National Football league club for three seasons, said he had reached a "good settlement" on his $30,000-a-year contract which had two years to run.

"I've got no immediate plans and no irons in the fire on any coaching jobs," declared the white-haired McMillin.

McMillin issued a three-page statement explaining his reasons for the decision to quit the NFL post. He had been under fire from some quarters since his team went into a mid-season slump before it finished strong to wind up with a six-six record for the season.

Amlipying his written statement, McMillin told newsmen he had not been given a free hand by the Lions board of directors.

CHARGES 'SNIPING.'

"It is difficult to do your best work when members of your own official family are sniping at you," he declared.

There was no comment from the Lions management other than an assertion by President Edwin Anderson that McMillin's successor would be named within 48 hours.

Anderson indicated McMillin's duties might be divided, with both a new coach and a general manager to be named.

McMillin, who came to the Lions from Indiana university in 1948, had said repeatedly that it would take him four or five years to rebuild the Detroit team which had become the doormat of the NFL.

He declared Tuesday: "I am disappointed I was not given that chance. I leave to my successor great personel, the type of which I was not fortunate enough to start with three years ago."

McMillin, taking cognizance of rumors that some of his players had said they would not play for him another season, said in his formal statement:

"It has been said and printed that some of my players did not like or respect me. I want you football fans to know that while coaching the Lions I was not conducting a popularity contest. There might have been others who were doing that. But not me.

"I had to say no. I had to mete out discipline. Therefore I am not surprised that some gossip mongers would pick up rumors from a few malcontents that I was unpopular."

Bluebirds, St. Bonaventure Meet Tonight

. . . At Lewiston Friday

By BOB DECKER.
(Star Sports Staff Member)

Coach Vince Aldrich's Bluebirds will embark Wednesday afternoon on the first leg of two out-of-town games scheduled for this week. Cathedral will tangle with St. Bonaventure of Columbus Wednesday night and Lewiston, Nebraska on Friday evening.

The Bluebirds are expecting quite a battle from the Bonnies as they are reportedly loaded this year. Cletus Fischer, former Husker and New York Giant football player, has five starters back from last years' squad and they should prove rugged opposition for Cathedral.

SAME STARTERS.

The undefeated Bluebirds in their last encounter spurted in the last quarter to nose out Sacred Heart of Norfolk, 37-28, and Coach Aldrich has decided to stick with this starting five: Tom Cowan and Ed Cripe, forwards: Wayne Sodman, center: Bill Kryger and John Steinauer, guards.

A traveling squad of 23 men will make the trip to both Columbus and Lewiston. Beside the varsity Aldrich will take his sophomore team to engage the foes' B teams in the preliminary games.

Wayne Sodman, Cathedral's lanky center, will act as game captain at Columbus. Sodman is one of the Bluebird scoring threats and also does a good job of clearing the boards and passing off. Sodman, along with Tom Cowan, led the way in the victory a over Sacred Heart with nine points.

Fran Nagle To Be West Quarterback

Weeks is ranked one of the best passers in the history of the Big Seven conference.

Reynolds 5th In Nation's All-Time Scoring

Soph Ace Topped All Marks Set During Past 30 Years

NEW YORK—(AP)—Major college gridirons hadn't seen anything like it in 30 years.

Bob Reynolds, the Nebraska wonder runner, collected 20 points in his first varsity football game, then ran and booted his way to a total of 157 points for the season.

The NCAA's statistical bureau pegs Reynolds far above others of the nation's top individual scorers during the season and goes back to 1920 to find anyone who did better.

Bob Reynolds

The last back to top Reynolds' total was Jib Leech of Virginia Military Institute. He piled up the all-time record of 210 points back in 1920.

Only three other players in football's history exceeded the output of the Nebraska bullet. Jim Thorpe, the legendary Indian, scored 198 points for Carlisle in 1912; Jerry Deprato of Michigan State totaled 188 in 1915; Bill Ingram of Navy posted 162 in 1917. Thus Reynolds stands fifth on the all-time list of mighty scorers, and he has two years in which to reach a higher rung.

CONVERSIONS COUNT.

A dead-eyed kicker as well as an elusive runner, Reynolds kicked 25 extra points in addition to scoring 22 touchdowns.

Reynolds' closest rival, Wilford (Whizzer) White of Arizona State at Tempe, whipped across for the same number of touchdowns, 22, but he booted only one extra point and one field goal for a total of 136. Eddie Talboom of Wyoming placed third with 130 points, 15 touchdowns and 40 conversions.

Bob Fuller, Arizona State's barefoot kicker, made a runaway of the extra-point race, booting 48 in 51 tries for a modern record. Dick Waterhouse of Army's '44 team and George Jernigan of Georgia's '46 powerhouse had previously been tied at 47 apiece.

Only Gene Simmons of West Virginia, a drop-kicker topped Fuller in percentage of conversions made. The mountaineer missed only one out of 20 for a mark of 95 per cent to Fuller's 94.1.

Billy Stamp of Bradley led the country in field goals with five. Joe Masnaghetti of Marquette was runner-up with four. The 11-year-old major college record is only six.

Sports Review

A COMBAT veteran of the Korean war will replace Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as grand marshal of the Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena New Year's day . . . Eisenhower wired tournament officials Tuesday that the declaration of the national emergency would not permit him to carry out his plans . . . Officials said Wednesday that Ike's suggestion would be carried out, although no veteran has been selected as yet.

The draft is the only thing that will keep Casey Stengel's Yanks from being as good as they were last season . . . But, the manager pointed out, "we're going to have a tough haul." . . . Reason for Stengel's skepticism is the fact that the Yanks have already lost Whitey Ford, last year's prize rookie, and the additional strength Boston will boast in Ray Scarborough and Lou Boudreau . . . The Yanks, who will train in Phoenix next spring, plan to make their first Pacific coast appearance on a 12-game exhibition jaunt through California, including a game against the University of Southern California.

CLARENCE HENRY, Los Angeles, former Golden Glover, was eagerly awaiting his promised scrap with Ezzard Charles for the heavyweight crown after disposing of Willie Bean in a 12-round decision bout Tuesday night at L. A.'s Olympic auditorium . . . Bean, 209, never had a chance against the 185-pound Henry, who won all but one round . . . The bout with Charles has been slated for Los Angeles sometime after the first of the year.

Michigan's Big Ten champs arrived in Pasadena Wednesday morning, headed by Athletic Director Fritz Crisler, who three years ago coached the Wolverines to a 49-0 win over Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl . . . This year's Michigan club will enter the New Year's fray against California's Bears with one of the worst records of any visiting team—five wins, three losses, and a tie . . . Coach Bennie Oosterbaan admitted that the team can't match 1947's powerhouse, but added: "We have a great deal of determination."

Marty Marion Top Shortstop

. . . Of Nat Loop

By HOWARD SIGMAND.

NEW YORK.—(INS)—Marty Marion, the new Mr. Manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, is still the old Mr. Shortstop of the National league.

The 1950 fielding statistics reveal that Marion, the manager doesn't have to go far to find his shortstop next season, providing that the operation on his ailing knee is a success. Because, according to the figures, bad knee, bad back and all, the St. Louis octupus was the league's number one shortstop.

Marion managed to get into 101 games. He fielded .978, accepting 504 chances and committing 11 errors.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who took the over-all team fielding laurels, placed three men on the league's top defensive nine. The lineup reads:

1B—Gil Hodges, Brooklyn; 2B—Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn; SS—Marion, St. Louis; 3B—Billy Cox, Brooklyn; CF—Wally Westlike, Pittsburgh; Sid Gordon, Boston, and Richie Ashburn, Philadelphia; C—Wes Westrum, New York; P—Gerry Staley, St. Louis.

6 NEW MARKS.

Six records were established and three were tied.

Al "Red" Schoendienst of the Cardinals broke a couple of his own records. The second baseman went 57 games handling 320 chances without an error to shatter his former marks of 44 games and 285 chances.

He lost second base honors to Robinson by the narrowest of margins. Robby fielded .986. Schoendienst turned in an .985 average.

By participating in 133 double plays Robinson broke Tony Cuccinello's old record of 128.

Hodges, who took first base honors for the second season in a row, established another record when he participated in 156 double plays.

Westrum broke the fielding record for catchers when he turned in a mark of .999.

Third Baseman Henry Thompson of the Giants broke Pie Traynor's old mark by participating in 43 double plays. Trayner's record was 41 set in 1925.

Willie Jones and Granny Hamner of the Phils tied records for third baseman and shortstops by appearing in 157 games.

Tommy Glaviano tied another mark by making three errors in the ninth inning in the St. Louis-Brooklyn game of May 18.

Staley accepted 56 chances without an error to lead the pitchers. Westlake was the top outfielder with an average of .991.

The Dodgers turned in a team fielding average of .979. They made the most double plays, 183, and the fewest errors, 127.

RACING.

MIAMI—Bee King, $11.80, beat Flap Not by a head in feature race at Tropical Park as Jockey Culmone nation's riding leader, again watched from the sidelines because of Saturday's spill.

NEW ORLEANS—Jockey Willie Shoemaker, riding at Fair Grounds for first time, chalked up his 358th victory of the year with Flatbush, $12.

Knights Up Lead To Eight Points

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—(INS)—The Omaha Knights have boosted their first-place margin in the United States Hockey league to eight points, picking up a pair of wins to offset a pair of losses during the past week.

Tulsa edged in front of St. Paul for runnerup spot, with Milwaukee, Denver and Kansas City bringing up the rear. However, there are only seven points separating the last five teams.

Doc Halldorson of Tulsa, picking up a goal and four assists last week, moved back into the top spot in the scoring race. Ian Mackintosh of St. Paul and Ike Hildebrand and Cal Stearns of Kansas City are knotted in second place with 36 points, one back of Halldorson. Mackintosh leads in goals with 20 and Halldorson has the most assists, 27.

Bill Brennan of Omaha, with a 2.88 goals-against average, leads the netminders.

FOOTBALL.

DETROIT—Alvin (Bo) McMillin resigned as coach and general manager of the Detroit Lions for "the best interest of profootball in Detroit."

Omaha U's Arenas Ninth Ground Gainer

NEW YORK — (AP) — Joe Arenas of the University of Omaha ranked ninth among backfield men from small colleges in ground-gaining during the past football season.

Arenas made 1,274 yards in 209 plays in nine games.

Bob Heimerdinger of Northern Illinois State topped all the nations small college backs by gaining 1,782 yards in 286 plays. He also played in nine games.

Holy Cross Tips Sooners

Last Undefeated Big 7 Club Edged, 53-50; Others Win

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Big Seven conference basketball teams won three of their four games Tuesday night, but the lone setback robbed the league of its last undefeated quintet.

The Oklahoma Sooners, who had won their first three games, were beaten by Holy Cross at Boston, 53-50.

On the winning side were the Kansas Jayhawks over Springfield (Mass.) college, 78-52, at Lawrence; Colorado over Santa Clara, 52-50, in overtime at San Francisco, and Nebraska over Iowa State Teachers, 63-55, at Lincoln.

Oklahoma, opening a three-game tour of the east, made a close battle of it all the way. Its 6-foot 11-inch Marcus Frieberger led the scoring with 18 points. Holy Cross was ahead 33-31 at the half.

MEET CCNY.

The Sooners meet CCNY in Madison Square Garden at New York Thursday and Minnesota at Minneapolis Saturday. There are no games involving Big Seven members tonight.

Kansas' great Clyde Lovellette scored 28 points against Springfield. Lovellette was limited to 10 tallies as the Jayhawks lost their only game of the young season, 68-39, to Kentucky last Saturday.

Springfield battled gamely, but was never in the contest. Coach Phog Allen again had his Kansans take the ball on the sideline after personal fouls. They made 6 fielders after 17 takeouts.

Roger Stokes' 18 points paced Colorado over Santa Clara in the Cow Palace. The game was tied 48-all at the end of regulation time after Santa Clara had led 25-21 at the half.

Plainsmen Face Favored Swedes

. . . TOURNEY ROLLS TONIGHT

NEBRASKA WESLEYAN'S First Annual Four-State basketball tournament gets under way tonight at the NU coliseum with a pair of games on tap.

Southwest Missouri State's favored Bears will tangle with East Texas State in the initial game at 7 p. m. Nebraska Wesleyan and Bethany (Kas.) college will meet in the evening's finale at 9 p. m.

Irv Peterson

Six foot, six inch Fred Stephens and six-foot, four-inch Bill Lea are two reasons why the Bears wear the favorite's mantle. However, the East Texas Lions, with sharpshooting "Shorty" Whitten going in high gear, had a great season a year ago and can give the Springfield club a tough battle.

Bethany college, coached by the wily veteran, Ray Hahn, will also rule slight favorites over Irv Peterson's oft-beaten Nebraska Wesleyan crew.

The Swedes dumped Hastings college, a strong Nebraska College conference contender, during a recent swing through Nebraska and will bring a highly-regarded, veteran crew to the coliseum.

IRV HOPEFUL.

But Coach Peterson Monday said he is not discouraged over the slow start made by his Plainsmen, who have won but a single game in six starts.

"Colorado State had the best club we have met this season," Peterson said, referring to last Friday's 81-51 setback at Greeley. "But the boys played much better against the Aurora A. A. U. outfit Saturday and will be hard to beat if they can start hitting a decent percentage of good shots."

Burl Kreps, the six-foot, four-inch, Riverton, Wyo., thin man, showed offensive improvement during the Colorado trek and Rollie Wiegers, Western guard, has improved rapidly since joining the squad late.

Winners of tonight's games will be paired in the championship bout Thursday night at 9:00. Losers will play the consolation game starting at 7:00 in the coliseum.

Officials For NWU Meet Are Changed

Coach Irv Peterson announced Tuesday night several officiating shifts for Nebraska Wesleyan university's four-state basketball tournament.

Peterson said that Charles Worrall of Lincoln will not officiate as previously announced and that Herman Rohrig will work one game Wednesday night. Carol Gast of Omaha North and Don Carrothers will officiate the Thursday evening games.

Also announced was the fact that one official, Richie Ashburn of Tilden, a star major league outfielder, will be a special guest of the Lincoln Sertoma club Thursday noon.

SPEAKS AT PARTY.

Richie will speak briefly at an annual Christmas party given by the Sertomans at which they entertain their ladies.

Officials already announced are Bill Keefer, Wahoo, and Frank Smagacz of Omaha.

The officiating schedule will be:

Wednesday night—First game, Keefer and Smagacz; second game, Ashburn and Rohrig.

Thursday night—First game, Ashburn and Smagacz; second game, Carrothers and Gast.

Only One-Seventh Cheyenne County Not Under Oil-Lease

SIDNEY, Neb.—(AP)—Oil-rich Cheyenne county is so thoroughly blanketed by oil leases that only about 100,000 acres are lease-free.

That estimate comes from County Clerk I. L. Pindell, who has been mapping the leases since the start of oil exploration in the county. They show 650,000 of the county's 760,000 acres under lease.

The biggest leasee is Ohio Oil company, which did the preliminary exploring in the county. The firm was first in the field with a leasing crew. In a matter of days, it had most of the acreage it wanted.

Of the Cheyenne county total, Ohio probably holds half of it. The company has around 400,000 acres under lease in all of western Nebraska, and most of it is in or around Cheyenne county.

The leases average 50 cents an acre or better, so the annual income from leases alone is around $325,000. Very few leases have been surrendered. So far as it is known, Ohio has surrendered none in the county.

Foight To Join Firm—Lester L. Foight, deputy sheriff, said he had "no comment" to make on Sheriff-elect Merle Karnopp's recent announcement that Foight would be replaced. Foight said he will become associated with a Lincoln real estate firm Jan. 2.

Stocks Show Gains, Losses

NEW YORK—(AP)—The stock market ran into rough going today after its three-day advance.

Gains and losses covered a range of a few cents to more than $1 a share either way.

Pivotal issues were marked down in early trading before a spotty recovery brought enough plus signs into the list to make the market trend irregular.

The volume of trading came to 3,500,000 shares as compared with yesterday's 3,650,000 shares.

Distillers and radio-television issues showed outstanding strength from the very first. A number of other issues joined in the light rally of rails, steels, rubbers, oils and chemicals.

Aircrafts and motors were backward most of the time along with a generous scattering of individual issues from all sides.

The radio-TV section perked up on the report of war contracts for electronic equipment of more than $5,000,000,000 (B).

Grains Rally After Slump

CHICAGO—(AP)—Grains rallied after an early slump to close with a mixture of gains and losses on the board of trade today.

Prices sank at the start in response to overnight news that the government was imposing "voluntary" ceilings at Dec. 1 levels. While not applying to grains directly, it was felt these maximums did apply to products made from grains.

Early selling was based on this development. Toward the close the market rallied on short-covering and buying by export houses. Trading was active throughout the session, both when the market declined and when it advanced.

Wheat closed ¼@½c higher, March, $2.47, corn was ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher, March $1.71@1.71½, oats were ¼c lower to ⅛c higher, March, 98; rye was 1¾@2½c lower May, $1.70 soybeans were ¼@1¼c lower, January, $3.09¾, and lard was 30 to 38 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $18.05.
